EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1902.

ELOQUENT EULOGIES OF WM. M'KINLEY FEELINGLY SPOKEN

Dr. Manchester, His Former Pastor, and Other
Ministers Draw Lessons From the Martyr's Life.

McKinley memorial day was appropriately observed in several of the local churches yesterday. Chief interest centered in the sermon by Dr. Manchester.

With the deepest reverence one of the largest congregations that ever assembled in the First M. E. church listened to the eulogies of the late martyred and widely loved president, William McKinley, spoken by the Rev. C. E. Manchester, presiding elder of the East Ohio conference, last evening.

Dr. Manchester, having been for years an intimate friend of the man of whom words of praise were uttered in all parts of the United States yesterday, and having been his pastor at Canton and a true friend to the wife and mother, was perhaps more fitted to deliver the address than any other living man.

His remarks were most touching. Many were moved to tears. Reminiscences repeated by the speaker showing the life of McKinley one of grandeur, loveliness and purity in character appealed to all. In part Dr. Manchester said:

"When the body of McKinley was lying in state at Canton magnificent displays, tokens of love and fond respect for the grand man, enshrouded the remains. The display was most beautiful, but amongst the bower a few common flowers, wilted and the stems broken, attracted the gaze of all eyes and left an impression that will never die. A note tied to this little bunch of withered flowers, written by a little girl, showed that McKinley was not only loved by the older and more comprehensive people but also by the children.

"The few lines of the note were expressive of the little ones feeling: 'Oh, Mr. McKinley, I send you this because I love you. I am so sorry that you went to Buffalo.'

"McKinley's Christian character is worthy of our emulation. It was his faith through which he attained his high position. Men conquer because God is with them. Great are the victories that come to them that believe.

"His was a character well worth our study. Of the strong men of the world there were none stronger. The luster of his character grows with the declining years. It is true that he is spoken of reverently and fervently by the masses today, but in ten years his memory will be more treasured.

The elements of strength lie in a noble manhood. To possess a manhood such as his it is necessary to have a good ancestry. These McKinley had."

"A lovelier character than his mother never lived. She had all the grace and beauties of character. Many times when his admirers would be speaking to her of McKinley she would say: 'Well, if William trusts in the Lord he will be all right.' He loved his mother. Of her he said many times: 'All I have in this world I owe to my mother.'

"He was always a good character. When in the army, a place where most men became indifferent as to religious scruples, he remained the same as at home. Not one of his comrades would say truthfully that they ever heard him utter a word in disobedience to

THE NEW UNION OF MOULDMAKERS TWO WEEKS' WORK ARE NOT ENOUGH

Preliminary Steps Have Already Been Taken to Organize It.

Despite Predictions, Legislators
Have Apparently a Longer Task Ahead.

CHARTER OF N. B. OF O. P. FOUR WEEKS HAVE PAST

Will Be Asked By More Than Half the Former Membership—All Pledged to Work for Abolition of the Contract System.

And the Actual Progress Toward Legislation Has Not Been Great—Hanna And Campaign Party Expected to Visit East Liverpool.

Preliminary steps have been taken for the organization of another local of the mouldmakers, to be chartered under the N. B. of O. P. and composed of workmen engaged at that trade who are in accord with the movement for the abolition of the contract system as it has been practiced in the jurisdiction of the national organization.

The causes which led up to the expulsion of No. 22 from the Brotherhood were many and varied. They emanated from a source that was anything but loyal to the N. B. of O. P. Advantages were taken and privileges used which were unauthorized by No. 22 as an organization. Therefore the results, while they reflected upon the entire membership, were not the sentiment of the members as a whole.

A clever move was made previous to the holding of the trial before the executive board recently, and had the deliberations of that body resulted as for a majority of the members of No. 22 thought, all would have been well, but they did not.

Those of the mouldmakers who have the best interests of the Brotherhood at heart have realized for some time that there were men in the organization whose purpose it was to disrupt the union. When the union was tried for an alleged violation of the laws, it was the belief of the loyal ones that the executive board would impose a fine, or at most suspend the local for a certain length of time. Had this been done the society would have been better off than ever before, as the better element concluded that when the reinstatement took place these mischief makers would not be among the membership, since they had no real interest in the organization.

The delegates from Liverpool township are as follows: Dr. Geo. P. Kirk, M. E. Miskall, J. J. Weisner, J. C. Walsh, Ed. Cook, Joseph Reilly, Walter Stewart, John W. Moore, John Plankerton, Thomas Lynch and James H. Tracy.

The members of No. 22 were disappointed in the action of the executive board, since the charter was revoked and the union expelled, as was exclusively mentioned in this paper at the time.

The severe measures taken by the board was unexpected, and necessitated a change in the plans of those who were the real backbone of the union. A meeting was held last Thursday night, at which a committee was appointed to confer with the national officials with reference to the future course of the true unionists in the organization. After the confab a definite plan was formed, the result of which will be made known to the executive board in due time.

T. J. DUFFY IS UNWILLING TO RUN

Will Endeavor to Keep Democrats From Nominating Him For Congress.

If the name of T. J. Duffy is selected by the Democrats of the Eighteenth congressional district in convention at Alliance tomorrow, to fill a place on the party ticket, it will be against that gentleman's will. Mr. Duffy is satisfied with the situation just as it is, and will not favor any plan for a mixup with the Democracy.

According to the expressed opinion of a large number of East Liverpool Democrats this is going to be easier said than done. The leaders of the party will insist upon placing Mr. Duffy's name before the convention, and as there have been no other candidates mentioned it is quite likely he will receive the honor.

A number of labor leaders have been using every effort within the past few days to induce the Democrats to give up the idea of insisting upon placing any candidate's name upon the Democratic congressional ticket, much less Duffy's, but the attempts have failed. They insist that any intimation of a fusion with the Democrats will hurt the East Liverpool candidate's chances and that if he leaves the labor ticket, there will be no use in making the race.

BOY'S BACK BROKEN IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

As the result of a thrilling runaway accident which occurred on last Friday evening, Benjamin McCoy, aged 14 years, the son of Harry H. McCoy, of Fredricktown, is confined to bed, physically ruined for life.

The unfortunate lad had been to this city and was returning home in a spring wagon drawn by two fractious horses which were driven by Howard Houston when the horses became frightened at the sudden appearance of a white cow along side of the road and before the driver had a chance to check them they plunged madly forward and commenced running at an awful rate of speed. On a terrorizing gallop they sped over the road and finally crashed into a big oak tree. Young McCoy was hurled into the air and struck on a ragged stone, one of the sharp edges striking his back bone, breaking it and throwing him into a state of terrible agony.

Howard escaped serious injury, as did also the horses. In a few minutes the injured one was being conveyed to the office of Dr. Bean, at Calcutta. The physician made a quick examination and found the boy to be in the deplorable condition above described.

The youngster has many friends in the community in which he lives. He is particularly bright and it seems too bad that one with such a bright future should become the victim of such an accident.

DEATH MAY RESULT TO AN AGED FARMER WHO FELL FROM CAR

Not Being Familiar With Electrical Vehicles
He Walked Off and Was Badly
Injured.

While riding on a street car which was going at full speed in Chester this morning at about 6:30 o'clock, John Mellen, an aged farmer living near Hookstown, deliberately stepped off the running board, fell violently to the ground and as a result lies in a critical condition at the home of his son on a shanty boat tied to the river bank near the old flint mill.

The motorman stopped the car immediately and by the aid of several eye witnesses to the accident placed Mellen in the car and removed him to the office of Dr. Lewis, on Virginia avenue. Dr. Hobbs, of this city, was then summoned and the two physicians attended the injured man. They found that he had sustained a badly cut eye, concussion of the brain on the right of his head and that there were some signs of his being hurt internally. He complained of his right shoulder giving him much pain, but no dislocation or broken bones were discovered. The physicians state that owing to the man's age, he being in his 74th year, there is a possibility of the accident resulting fatally.

Following the examination and the dressing of the wounds Mellen was removed on a car to the Diamond where the patrol wagon was in waiting and from there took him to the home of his son.

The son states that his father left this city early this morning, intending to go to his farm and states that he, although not a total abstainer, was not under the influence of liquor. As a reason for the elderly man's rash act, it is stated that he has ridden but little on cars and probably was not aware that the alighting when a car in at full speed seldom results otherwise than disastrously.

WELL ON DAWSON FARM GOOD FOR 100 BARRELS

The oil well which was brought in on the Dawson farm by Mike Finnegan, of Pittsburg, is considered the best that has been brought in in this section for many months. This well came in through the sand Saturday morning, and it was drilled in this morning. It is reported to be making 100 barrels a day, and has been since Saturday flowing from the casing. William Gailey, of Pittsburg, who was on the ground when this well came in, offered Mr. Dawson $4,000 for one sixteenth interest in his one-eighth interest. This offer was refused.

This morning five wells were located in that section, one by LeCompte & Co., two by Mr. Finnegan and two by Stewart Bros., of New York. An engine has been placed at a favorable place on Mill Creek and water will be pumped from the creek to the oil fields for the boilers used in the field. A pipe line has been laid from the creek to the field. The territory gives promise of being one of the most productive in this part of the country.

MINISTERS' PETITION: LEAVE BEAL LAW ALONE

The September meeting of the East Liverpool and Wellsville joint ministerial association was held this morning in the parlors at the Y. M. C. A. hall, and although the attendance was not very large, a sufficient number were present to hold a meeting. In the absence of the regular secretary, Rev. W. M. Glasgow, Rev. L. C. Wells, pastor of the M. P. church at Wellsville, was placed in that position. Local ministers who attended the meeting claim that no business for the press could be given out by the secretary.

It was learned from other sources, however, that some important questions were considered at the meeting. It was stated, and from a source con-

SICK FOR TWO YEARS AND NO DOCTOR CALLED

Being ill for almost two years, with no medical attention, Mrs. Mary Smarda, a native of Austria, died at her home at Walker yesterday. No one appears to know the cause of her death, and all that Undertaker Tod could glean from the members of the family was, that she had been ill for two years; was compelled to her bed last Saturday week, and died Saturday morning. That was all that the members of the family told in broken English, and that is all that will ever be known. The cause of the woman's death will likely remain a mystery.

When Undertaker McQuilkin was notified of the death he sent his assistant, Mr. Tod to the house at Walker, and the remains were prepared for burial. As is required in all cases, the causes of death were asked, and when no one appeared to know, the name of the attending physician was asked. None had attended the woman, and these blanks will be left unfilled in the death report of the undertaker which is to be filed at Lisbon.

The age of the woman was placed at 70 years, but even this may not be right. The funeral services were held this morning at St. Aloysius church, and interment was at the Catholic cemetery. The foreigners residing at Walker are about as illiterate as can be found anywhere. As they cannot speak the American language, it is a wonder that any information can be secured from them on any subject.

Chicken Case Decided.
Squire McLane has rendered a decision in the case of George J. Clark against Charles B. Applegate. The plaintiff is to retain possession of the four chickens, the ownership of which gave rise to the case but both the defendant and plaintiff will be compelled to pay the cost, which are to be divided equally.

Henry Butler.
A pretty wedding at which Squire McLane officiated occurred on Saturday evening when Miss Clara Henry and Charles Butler were united in the presence of only a few friends. Both are respected residents of the city and have the good wishes of all.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

AMERICAN POTTERS' PROGRESS.
The News Review is in receipt of some valuable information concerning the conditions of the pottery industry of England (Staffordshire districts) which will be read with interest, not only by the older English potters now employed in this city, but by the public in general. These reports, some of which have been sent from English papers, show beyond doubt that the pottery trade of England is declining and more rapidly than one would suppose, and the business that was once held so firmly in the hands of the British manufacturer is now being secured by the American manufacturer. In short, "the worm is turning."

It is not to be regretted that such conditions exist, from the view of a patriotic American, and especially by those who live in the pottery districts of this country, and in what is now and will be in the future, the center of the pottery district of America, East Liverpool. Not an idle pottery in this part of the Ohio valley. It may be that one or two small shops are idle throughout the country, but these are possibly so small that not much attention is being paid to them. Very different are the conditions in England. In the Staffordshire district it is said that out of a possible total of 304 potteries, 25 are for rent, sale or lease. No such conditions as these prevail in America.

Some manufacturers think there are not potters enough, and almost every month one will read of additions being built and of new potters also. There is cause for all this. The American manufacturer has invaded the territory of the English manufacturer conquered the trade once held by his competitor, and is now reaping the harvest. But the end is not yet. Just a few days ago the statement was made to the writer, by a gentleman who is actually more conversant with conditions than any other person in this city, that it was his firm belief that within the next ten or twelve years, there would be no ware imported into the United States and that most of the crockery sold in England would bear the stamp, "Made in America."

Continuing this gentleman said that the trade of the English manufacturer seems almost incredible, but figures and hard facts were presented, all of which showed that the gentleman who is a resident of this city, knew whereof he spoke.

In a recent issue of the Staffordshire Sentinel it told how slow the English potters were working, and that workmen in the Staffordshire potteries were working but a few days a week. Pressers reported work as being very scarce in the district, while the sanitary pressers were having more work than they had had for months.

In the beginning of the English story the intimation is made that the exports were increasing, but facts prove it otherwise. Information received here this morning from England states that the largest potters in the Staffordshire district are doing but two and three days a week. The Daultons pottery, which is considered one of the best in that district, is running better than the other large ones.

classed as Minton's, Cauldon Place and Wedgwood's, whose plants are running fairly well. Their business, however, is not as it formerly was. It is in these potteries that the best of the English china goods are made, hence they are doing better than other plants. Of course there is quite an amount of strictly high class ware imported into this country at present, but it is all made in the potteries referred to above. A printer in an English pottery receives on an average of $10.50 a week, and this is divided among the crew. His transfer receives about $3 a week, but it is considered a lucky girl who has that amount in her envelope.

"It is a safe prediction that, if the English pottery workmen were told of the extent of the pottery business in East Liverpool," said an English potter, a few days ago, "they would be thinking a fairy tale was being told them, or would at once make arrangements to come here. It would not matter whether the operative had a position before he left his old home or not, he would be able to secure employment in East Liverpool the day after he arrived. When these facts become known to the pottery workmen of England, and just as soon as they can raise enough funds to pay their passage to America, there will be an exodus of pottery workers to the west. Wages are higher, work is more abundant, and conditions more favorable to work under than in England. As soon as the English potter commences to realize these facts he will not be long in making up his mind to come here."

As to the class of ware made in this country, it has been said by a prominent English manufacturer, that the ware made in East Liverpool was almost equal to that made in the best and largest potteries in the Staffordshire district. Advances are being rapidly made in this line, and this is why the statement has been made that American made ware is fast replacing that made in England. There is however, a lack of high class decorators in this country and when some of the higher class of English decorators and designers come to East Liverpool, nothing can stop the rapid progress that is being made in this district by the manufacturing potters. It is true, however, that if there were a few more high class decorators in this district, ware could be produced that could not be beat by a manufacturer in any other part of the country, so far as producing high class pottery is concerned. Still, rapid strides have been made in this direction by several East Liverpool firms within the past two years, and the result in the increased business of these firms has been nothing short of wonderful. Improvements are being made in the decorating departments of the local potteries almost daily, and another year will see still more changes, all of which will be of benefit to the local manufacturers, and to East Liverpool.

TRADE IS GROWING.

The demand for pottery continues unabated and good activity is noted pretty generally among the Western potters. The majority are well supplied with business. The present business situation is wholesome and the future looks bright for the remainder of the year. No buyers of importance visited this city the past week. The mails, however, are bringing liberal orders. Good reports come from the traveling men in nearly all sections—especially the west and south. There is a noted improvement in demands from the east, and salesmen and representatives in that section are now sending in a good many important orders. There is a large sprinkling of specialties contained in current orders and an increased inquiry for everything new in that line, betokening a stronger demand for these this fall.

ON A SAD MISSION.

William N. Fleming, a turner at the Steubenville pottery, and secretary of local No. 20, of that city, was in the city Saturday afternoon for the purpose of gathering some facts concerning the death of Mr. Lynch, the aged soldier dipper who died at the Soldiers' Home at Sandusky last week. Mr. Fleming is a son-in-law of Mr. Lynch, and although he died last Tuesday, Mr. Fleming knew nothing of the fact until Friday evening. Mr. Fleming stated that the Steubenville pottery was working full time, and everything about the shop was in the best possible condition. Mr. Fleming was for many years a resident of this city and is well known here.

ON LIBRARY SHELVES

Two Entertaining Stories of American Life Lately Published.

"Craque O'Doom," by Mary Hartwell Catherwood, the author of "Lazarre," now in the Carnegie Library, is one of the most unique yet interesting books of the year. The scene of the story is laid in a rural American village in the early sixties.

In Tamsin Chenoworth, the heroine of the story, is found a descendant of probably the lowest type of family. For several generations the Chenoworths had figured in dreadful crimes. Tamsin seemed the only redeeming feature, with her proud spirit and lofty ideals. Her abilities were discovered, and her rise, above her surroundings, to a useful and noble life, follows.

Rich in unconscious drollery, touched with tender pathos, and imbued with stirring patriotism, "The Starbuck's" is a typical American novel. Whether Low was made to marry Lije; whether Fetterson's love of a "boss trade" exceeded his powers of prayer; how the mountain preacher at last yielded to the love of an admirable woman; how Mrs. Spencer consoled Margaret, and how Judge Elliott reversed all precedent—these and other things are told most charmingly, with keen humor and touching pathos in this latest, and undoubtedly the best of Opie Read's clever stories. "The Starbuck's" has been enjoying great popularity.

Former East Liverpool Reporter Successfully Contends Against Police In Los Angeles.

Archie Searight, of Pennsylvania avenue, has received a number of papers from Los Angeles, California, which contains some interesting reading. Frank Searight, who is a son of Archie Searight, and who for several years was employed in the local newspaper field, is employed on one of the Los Angeles papers. It appears that two reporters from the paper upon which Mr. Searight is working had occasion to seek some information from the police which was of vital importance to the public. This was refused, the police cursing Mr. Searight and another reporter named Wing, and telling them, "the public be hanged."

After this stormy interview charges were preferred against the officers for using profane language, and they were given a hearing before the board of police commissioners. They were found guilty and were given a severe reprimand. Then the desired information was obtained, and now the police are howling to the papers to "let up on them." However, the reporters gained their point, which was to be expected.

An East End Baker, Who Was Discharged, Tried to Get Even But Failed.

Because he spoiled several batches of baking, in three days, a baker from Pittsburgh who was employed for three days by J. B. McKinnon, of the East End, attempted to assault his employer Saturday evening, and got the worst of the deal. It appears that after the man was asked to resign his position and was paid $7 for his three days' work, he went out and loaded up on bad whiskey. He returned to the bakery and demanded his return fare to Pittsburgh, but of course this was refused him.

Just then Mr. McKinnon had occasion to stoop down to pick something from the floor, and then it was that the baker tried to throw him down by catching Mr. McKinnon by the neck. He failed in this for McKinnon was too swift for him. The baker has left the East End, but McKinnon did not put up the money for the railroad fare.

East Liverpool Railway Will Not Run Summer Vehicles When the Weather Is Cold.

During the chilly mornings the East Liverpool Railway company will not put out its summer cars. This decision was reached yesterday by Supt. Thomas Reed. For a week or more the weather has been so chilly in the early morning that frequently the blinds of the summer cars were kept down until noon.

Between Wellsville and East Liverpool the ride is so chilly during the early part of the day that the company thought it might be just as well to place the box cars on the road in place of the summer cars. This was done this morning, much to the delight of the traveling public.

NOT AS ADVERTISED

The Much Talked of East End Races Were Most Disappointing.

There was to have been several "good" races at Columbian park Saturday afternoon, but as it was there were several poor attempts at racing. Julius, who styles himself the "terrible Swede," advertised the fact that he would race five horses on a motor cycle, but it appears that the horses were ill and could not run. But Julius did. He ran from the track to the box office several times to count the receipts, and then the crowd also ran to the gate.

There was no motor race or horse race. There was, however, several hundred people fooled, and that was all there was to it. Officer Fisher was present to preserve order, and for a time it looked as though he would have work on his hands. Matters passed off quietly, however, but there was not a horse race or motor race. A Coming Wedding.

Word has been received in the East End of the approaching marriage of Edward Russell, employed as a warehouseman at the Globe pottery, and Mrs. Annie C. Eaton, of Cincinnati. Mrs. Eaton was formerly a resident of this city, and after their marriage, which will take place in East Liverpool, the couple will go to housekeeping in the East End, where both are well known. The date of the wedding has not been announced.

Quarterly Communion.

The regular quarterly communion service will be observed at the Second United Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. Owing to this fact preparatory service will be held in this church under the direction of Rev. D. W. McQuiston next Thursday and Friday evenings. It may be that a brother of the pastor of the East End church will assist in these services.

In a Serious Condition.

Word was received in the East End this morning from Georgetown of the serious illness of Mrs. Elizabeth Peppard, of Georgetown. She has been suffering with paralysis for the past three years and her condition yesterday was such that it was thought the end was near. She has many friends in this part of the city.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

A meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church, will be held Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. N. Swan, on St. George street.

Fireman John Spence, of the East End fire station, proposes to build a new residence. Saturday afternoon he let the contract for its erection to Contractor Curtis, of the East End.

Travel on the East Liverpool railway was delayed for a short time Saturday evening, a car in charge of Motorman Henry Moore jumping the track at the switch on Ohio avenue. It was soon replaced.

The East End tribe of Ben Hur will meet this evening in their hall on First avenue, at which time a number of new members will be received into the order and several other applications for membership presented for consideration. The meeting gives promise of being an interesting one.

ECZEMA CURED

BY
LIFE PLANT.

Stillwater, O., Nov. 5th, 1898

Life Plant Co.
Messrs.—After trying the best physicians and the popular remedies of the day for fifteen years for a stubborn case of Eczema, without being benefited, and as physicians claimed there was no cure for me I had concluded to abandon the use of all medicines, believing my case incurable.

Six years ago, hearing through a friend who had tried it, that LIFE PLANT was a wonderful remedy, I was persuaded to make one more trial.

It is worth of LIFE PLANT cured me and I would not take the disease back to keep for thousands of dollars. I was cured six years ago and the disease does not return.

Since being cured myself I have persuaded a number of my friends who had bad cases of Eczema, to try LIFE PLANT, and it cured in every case; and the best of all is, they stay cured.

I have given you herein a plain statement of facts and you are at liberty to publish the same for the benefit of those afflicted.

Yours truly,

W. H. HOUK.

Hives, Tetter, Dyspepsia and Eczema.

Mrs. W. Wheeler, of Ulrichsville, O.

says:

For five years I have been treated by physicians and have tried patent medicines for hives, tetter and dyspepsia, but could get no relief. At last hearing of the wonderful curative powers of LIFE PLANT I tried it, and to my great satisfaction found myself cured when I had taken but two bottles.

My daughter had eczema, has just finished her first bottle, and is almost entirely cured. She will continue its use until it is entirely eradicated from the system.

This flattening of the lens goes on until distant vision is affected, and they are compelled to resort to glasses even for walking. When they have reached this condition bifocals, or double lenses, are often a great aid. The upper glass is for distance and the lower one for reading, so that one pair of glasses is made to do the work of two.

During this series of talks I have been greatly hampered by lack of space and have been compelled to omit many things which I would be pleased to explain, but to sum it all up in a few words, the best advice which can be given in regard to the care of the eyes is merely this: Avoid straining the eyes, and when you believe that they are necessary, do not let your prejudice stand in the way of your wearing glasses—some times they are last resource.

Walther's Peptonized Port gives good digestion, active liver, good circulation and buoyant spirits. Try it.

The News Review during the fall and winter months last year, published a series of articles forming a "Home Study Course," presenting natural science in popular language. The favor with which these articles were received has led us to decide upon a second course for this year. They will form the most entertaining and valuable reading matter—a veritable mine of useful information. This course will appear only in the columns of the News Review, and we are confident that it will be read with avidity and interest by all classes of readers.

Throughout this broad land, press, pulpit and people yesterday paid homage to the memory of William McKinley. His fame was of the enduring sort, and his greatness as a statesman and a leader is better recognized and more generally appreciated now than when he was living and working for the good of his people. Truly, the memory of a just man is blessed.

Following the example set by the government in prohibiting the sale of liquor to Indians, the navy department has ordered that none be sold in our Samoa possessions. This is a wise decision. Uniform experience with native races the world over is that the introduction of liquor among them soon leads them into intemperance, and in such excess that they are rapidly demoralized.

According to a prominent financial paper of London, English railroads are so over-capitalized that they are on the verge of bankruptcy. It advocates that the principles of American railroad management be applied, if they would avert disaster.

A Democratic congress would mean a revision of the tariff on Democratic lines. The people have not forgotten the effect of the Wilson bill, and will not vote to strike a blow at the industrial interests of the whole country.

Tom L. Johnson's circus itinerary has not been arranged to include East Liverpool. Perhaps the manager has heard how a fake show was treated here a few months ago.

St. Louis has an idea that bribe-givers as well as bribe-takers ought to be punished. Proceeding on that line, the city may be able in time to root out the evil.

The price of whisky has advanced, but it is strongly asserted that it is merely a coincidence and not a result of the opening of the fall political campaigns.

Italy proposes to have an electrical mail route with a speed of four miles a minute. Italian bandits will have to be swift if they catch that mail train.

Tom Johnson, who professes to be a strong advocate of home rule, brings a would-be boss from Nebraska to Ohio to tell the people how to vote.

Prosperity is something the Americans do not tire of. That is why Democratic theories are receiving little popular attention now.

As long as manufacturers have nothing to complain of except inability to fill orders fast enough they won't vote for a change of conditions.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Hannah Gibbs.

The funeral of the late Hannah Gibbs will be held from the home of her son, John Gibbs, on Lisbon street, tomorrow afternoon. The Daughters of Pocahontas will have charge of the services. Mrs. Gibbs was 73 years of age, and had spent a greater portion of her life in East Liverpool. Her husband, William Gibbs, who died several years ago, was one of the very earliest settlers in this part of the country and was prominent in social and political circles. Mrs. Gibbs is survived by several children, among them being Mrs. Thomas Pickal, William Gibbs and John H. Gibbs, with whom she lived at the time of her death. Mrs. Gibbs will be missed by a large circle of friends, among whom she was beloved and esteemed.

Mrs. Grant Croasman.

Mrs. Grant Croasman, aged 25 years, who has been residing on the corner of Second and River streets, Wellsville, with her husband, died at 6:30 Saturday evening after suffering from an attack of peritonitis. Her maiden name was Emma Yeager and she has resided in and around this city the greater part of her life. She leaves two children and her husband, who is a painter employed by the C. & P. railroad. The funeral will take place at 1 o'clock today and interment will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Michael Broderick.

Mrs. Michael Broderick, of Wellsville, died at 7 o'clock Saturday evening after suffering from a severe stroke of paralysis, having been stricken for the past three weeks. She is survived by five children, most of whom are married. Her husband died a few years ago. The funeral will be held on Tuesday morning from the Immaculate Conception church, Rev. Father Crotty officiating. Interment will be in St. Elizabeth cemetery.

WELLSVILLE*FOUGHT THE CHIEF

AN EAST LIVERPOOL MAN INTERFERES WITH OFFICER.

Taken Into Custody in Jefferson County, Brought Back And Fined Heavily.

While Chief Thorn was escorting Andy Hoover to the city lockup on Saturday evening, having found him in a drunken condition on Third street, he was interfered with on the public square by George Rutledge, of East Liverpool, who attempted to make the chief release his man.

When Rutledge came within reaching distance of the chief he received a stunning blow from the chief's mace, and by way of retaliation picked up a sharp stone and threw it at the officer. The stone landed on Thorn's chin and cut a deep gash, causing blood to flow freely.

By this time Thorn released his hold on Hoover and started after Rutledge, who started to run. The chief pulled his gun and shot once in the air, but did not at the time catch Rutledge. He returned to Hoover, who was too full to know what was going on and finally landed him in jail.

Chief Thorn went in search of Rutledge and hunted all night for him. Early Sunday morning he learned that Rutledge had gone to the home of his father-in-law, Wesley Wright, who lives in Jefferson county just over the Columbian county line. As Chief Thorn is a constable and has authority outside of the city, he at once drove to the home of Wright to place Rutledge in custody.

When he arrived at the house Wright came to the door and told the officer that Rutledge was not there.

Rutledge, however, at once put in an appearance and wanted to give himself up to the officer. Wright, however, would not have it that way and said that he would blow the officer's brains out before he would let him take anyone from his household.

It did not take the chief long, however, to get Rutledge and he finally landed him in the city jail.

Sunday afternoon the chief, accompanied by Detective Moore, of the C. & P. road, drove to Irondale, where he secured a warrant for Wright's arrest, charging him with obstructing an officer in the discharge of his duty and served the warrant himself. He took Wright back to Irondale, where he was placed in jail.

Rutledge was brought before Mayor Fogo Sunday morning and was fined $50 and costs, a sum which he is unable to pay and unless the amount is forthcoming from some of his relatives or friends within the next day or two Rutledge will probably be sent to the Canton workhouse. Hoover was fined $4.60 and arranged for payment.

MAYOR KEPT BUSY

Six Prisoners Appeared Before Mayor Fogo for Hearings This Morning.

For about 30 minutes Mayor Fogo did a land office business this morning and gave six prisoners a hearing, all of whom were arrested last evening. Two of Contractor Rinehart's colored laborers, William Howard and Thomas Powell, who were arrested by Officers Thorn and Houser, appeared before the mayor on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly. They at first pleaded not guilty, but finding that it would cost them less to plead guilty they changed their plea and were each fined $4.75.

Three Italian youngsters giving their names as Dominic Martin, Dennis Saul and Lewis D. Orr, who were arrested last evening by Officers Thorn and Houser, were given a hearing. Two were charged with being drunk and disorderly and the third was charged with carrying concealed weapons. All pleaded not guilty and their trial was set for later in the day, at which time witnesses will be called in.

John H. Powers, who is also employed by Contractor Rinehart, was given a hearing this morning. He was taken into custody by Officer Houser at Third street and Broadway last evening charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was assessed $4.75, but could neither pay the fine nor furnish security. Unless some of his friends come to his rescue he will probably be sent to the Canton workhouse.

A GARBAGE PIT

Improvement Committee Has Been Investigating Available Sites for One.

The improvement committee of council, which is composed of Councilmen Brennen, McCormick and Henderson, accompanied by Mayor Fogo, of the board of health, made a trip to the extreme west end of the city on Sunday afternoon for the purpose of looking up a site for a big garbage pit, a matter which has been the topic of general conversation for the last few days.

After looking over several pieces of property, two small strips of land were finally picked out, and if either can be purchased by the city that property will be turned into a garbage pit.

One of the strips of land is located just back of the old Champion Fire, Brick & Clay company's plant and the other strip is nearby.

It is the intention of the committee to dig a large pit and have all of the garbage that is put into the pit, covered with lime. Bids will be called in and a contract let for the taking charge of the gathering of garbage throughout the city. Several have already applied to members of the committee for the job, and it is expected that at least three bids will be received.

COUNCIL MEETING

Important Matters For the Consideration of the City Fathers Tonight.

Council will convene in regular session this evening at which time important new business will be brought up. It is expected that some action will be taken relative to placing fire plugs along Steubenville street in response to the petition, which has been circulated among the citizens along that thoroughfare.

An action is also looked for relative to a garbage pit, a matter which is in the hands of the improvement committee.

The light committee will also make a report to the council stating what they have done relative to placing new gas lights at different street intersections in the city.

Wrs. Kollna Wins Her Suit.
A decision in the case of Mrs. Mary Kollna against her husband, Stephen Kollna was given at 1 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, by Squire Haney. The suit was to recover $250 which Mrs. Kollna claimed her husband owed her and the case was given a hearing before Squire Haney. His decision was in favor of the plaintiff.

MARQUET COMPANY'S PURCHASE NEAR GEORGETOWN.

A Coal Railroad And Mines Are Also Promised Out Mill Creek.

Considerable excitement is prevailing in the vicinity of Georgetown, not only on account of the recent oil discoveries in that part of Beaver county, and vicinity, but because there is every prospect of large coal territory being developed in that section. Many times coal properties have been leased in the vicinity of Georgetown, but not once has any of the property been opened.

A large coal deal was completed Saturday afternoon at Georgetown but so far no figures have been announced. The Cumberland Coal company, which is composed of William Marquet and others who owned the Marquet coal interests at New Cumberland until recently, on Saturday purchased the Finley farm for coal purposes. This farm was owned by William Finley, who formerly owned a grocery in the East End, East Liverpool. This company also purchased the Slope mine out Mill Creek some time ago, and it will be but a short time until a number of miners will be put to work there.

Following the purchase of the Finley farm comes the announcement that when work is commenced on the New Cumberland extension to Monaca from Chester, a branch road will be built out Mill Creek of standard gauge. The hills of that part of Mill creek valley abound in coal, and all the coal mined up the valley could be at once loaded upon cars and shipped direct to the markets. That this branch road will be built there is no doubt. The only thing holding back the commencement of the work is the construction of the railroad extension.

KNEW M'KINLEY BEST

Old Neighbors Pay Tribute on the Anniversary of His Death.

JUDGE DAY SPOKE AT CANTON.

Remembrance of Some Nature In Different Churches—Mrs. McKinley, Accompanied by Mrs. Hobart, Paid Daily Visit to the Tomb.

Canton, O., Sept. 15.—There was a general observance of McKinley memorial day in the city which claimed him as its own, yesterday. From almost every pulpit there was reference in prayer or in address to him and his work. His favorite hymns were used. There was no attempt at decoration other than to have the portraits of McKinley draped with flags and surrounded with choice flowers. The address that attracted most attention here was that given by Judge William R. Day, former secretary of state and a friend and adviser of McKinley for many years. The address was delivered in the First M. E. church, of which McKinley was a member and in which the public funeral was held Sept. 19, 1901. The only decorations were flowers and a portrait of the late president, around which were the folds of the Stars and Stripes, emblematic of the patriotic spirit of McKinley.

In the Catholic churches of the city special mass was said. Tribute was also paid by some of the priests to the memory of McKinley, because, having known him personally, they could not forbear.

Mrs. McKinley Visited Tomb.

Although deeply conscious of the fact that it was just one year ago that her beloved husband died, Mrs. McKinley did not vary the program followed by her for several months. All days to her have been memorial days. Her usual trip to West Lawn cemetery was taken in the forenoon and she laid love's offering of flowers on the casket that contains the remains of the nation's martyred chief.

Mrs. Garrett A. Hobart, who is her guest, went with her into the McKinley tomb and also laid a bouquet of flowers on the coffin. Their subsequent drive took them to the McKinley family burial lot, where the daily bouquets were laid by Mrs. McKinley's direction. The afternoon and evening were spent at the McKinley home. During the day there were many visitors at the McKinley vault.

Judge Day's tribute to his martyred chief was in part as follows:

Calls For Suppression of Anarchists.

"This tragedy which fills our hearts with grief has a lesson for the living, and calls upon law makers and law enforcers for all that legislation and courts can do, suppression and punishment of those who teach or practice the dreadful tenets of this code of lawlessness and ruin."

Referring to the early life of McKinley, he said:

"From the school he heard the call of his country to her sons, and at once stepped into the ranks as the defender of the Union. His associates in arms, officers of his regiment, included such lawyers as Hay and Matthews, and in their companionship, while a valiant soldier, he determined to adopt the legal profession as his calling, should he survive the perils of war."

Referring to the Spanish-American war, Judge Day said:

"He determined to do all within the range of his official duties to better the condition of the Cuban people, to relieve the strain upon our country, and if possible to accomplish these ends without an appeal to arms. These purposes are the key to his Cuban policy, steadily pursued, with much accomplished, when the unlooked-for happened in the treacherous anchoring of the Maine where she became the easy prey of malicious persons bent upon her destruction.

Spain Told Withdrawal Necessary.

A STARTLING REPORT

One That Speaks Volumes—Tells of a Great Good Done—of a Certain Cure—For the Nervous, Weak And Helpless.

Mr. James Peppin, of No. 393 Third street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkin's Drug Store are a fine nerve tonic. As a result of hard work I was generally debilitated—nervous and could not sleep. I needed rebuilding and found in the Nerve Pills the medicine needed. They have the power to strengthen the nerves—give restful sleep and general vigor to the system to the system at large."

satisfactory, and that no assistance could be afforded to further plans of so-called autonomy under Spanish rule.

"William McKinley never consciously wronged a fellow being," said Judge Day. "It was his rule not only to refrain from inflicting pain, but to scatter joy wherever he could. He would step aside from a march of retreat to assure a weeping mother who loved the union that defeat was but for the day and would be turned into victory. Steadfast in his friendship, he would not waver from loyalty, for the glittering prize of the presidency. Enduring the burdens which came before, during and after the war, no word of impatience ever escaped him, and he met the people with a smile of welcome and a word of encouragement. He would turn from the most important affairs of state to give a flower to a little child or to say a kindly word to some visitor for whom he could do no more.

Resentment, He Had None.

"Resentment, he had none. He believed life was too short to give any of his time to cherishing animosity. Sensitive to criticism, no one ever heard him utter any unkind word of another. He met calumny with silence and unfair criticism with charity. He was the gospel of cheerfulness. His presence was sunshine, never gloom; his encouraging word dispelled doubt and nerved others to their duty."

In conclusion, the speaker said:

"If the youth of the country learn from his life that the surest foundation of success is upright character and that the path of duty is indeed the way to glory, then may his great life live beyond its too short living with praises and thanksgiving that such a character was given to the world."

WHERE FELL LATE PRESIDENT.

Memorial Services Held In Buffalo Churches—Public Meeting.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The anniversary of the death of William McKinley was universally observed in this city yesterday. The pastors in all the churches paid tribute to the memory of the martyred president and the congregations sang his favorite hymns. "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "Lead, Kindly Light," were sung by the worshippers in small chapels and missions, and gloriously in tones, accompanied by the great organs in the larger churches, seemingly with special significance and fervor.

In the afternoon a public meeting was held in the city convention hall. The auditorium was crowded and hundreds were turned away. Despite the presence of the immense throng, a reverential quiet prevailed throughout the services. The interior of the hall was decorated with the national colors. A large oil painting of the dead president, festooned in flags, faced the audience. Over the portrait was a banner inscribed with the words uttered by the president in his death bed, "It is God's way." Mayor Erastus C. Knight presided and called the meeting to order with a brief speech.

The services were opened with Chopin's Funeral March by the orchestra. After the invocation the choir of 100 voices and the audience sang "Lead, Kindly Light."

Addressess were made by the Rev. C. E. Locke, Tracy C. Becker and Asylum J. Smith. "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "America" were sung by the audience, and the services ended with Mendelssohn's Funeral March by the orchestra.

Today memorial services were being held in all the public schools.

NEW YORK SHOWED RESPECT.

Services In Churches—Memorial Concert In Central Park.

New York, Sept. 15.—The first anniversary of the death of President William McKinley was specially observed yesterday in a large number of the churches of this city, while it was referred to by the pastors of almost all the others.

The Rev. Charles L. Thompson preached at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church on "Religious Elements of National Strength." This is the church which President McKinley attended when his visits to this city included Sundays. In this church, as in all others, the hymns, "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Nearer, My God, to Thee," were included in the program of congregational singing. The sermons were laudatory of the public acts and private character of the dead executive. In the Church of Christ (Christian Scientist), after the program of reading, a special service was held and Governor Odell's proclamation calling for the observance of the day was read to the congregation.

THE FINAL GAME FAST AND PRETTY

East Liverpool Made It Three Straight From the Washington (Pa.) Team.

BARKER A STAR TWIRLER

An Excellent Exhibition of Ball Playing Resulted in a Score of 2 to 1. A Pitcher's Battle That Was Interesting.

In a fast and pretty game on Saturday afternoon the locals made it three straight from Washington, Pa., winning by a score of 2 to 1.

Manager Walsh's team went into the game in an apparently crippled condition, only four of the regular players being in uniform. But the bunch soon demonstrated that they were "there with the goods," and were perhaps nearer the real thing than any local team that has played this season.

A nicer exhibition of twirling has not been seen for many days. It was a pitchers' battle, if there ever was one in the West End park. Each man held the hits down to four and not a single two-base hits was landed. Barker only proved again his worth. His delivery beats anything the fans have ever witnessed. But it does the work. Standing erect and almost motionless the youngster gives his arm a little twist and without the least apparent effort places the ball there every time with his underhand movement.

It is impossible for one to detect what kind of a ball he is going to deliver. His slow ones start in exactly the same manner as the fast ones. The batter generally falls against the ball with his whole weight, but to no effect. If the ball gets out of the diamond it is not Barker's fault.

Carson, the southpaw, who pitched in Thursday's game, was again in the box for the visitors. That he is one of the best cannot be disputed. His delivery is quick and his speed is remarkable. The locals found it difficult to even touch his well delivered curves. His support was not the best possible, and to that is credited the bases on balls which he gave. He would force the batter into placing one in the infield. The baseman would let it go through. Up in the air he would go, and before alighting would let a man walk.

But one thing marred the enjoyment of the game. Eckels, catcher for the visitors, received a bump in the fifth inning that came near putting him out of the business. He had his head poked too close to the plate when a foul tip went crashing against his mask and on through to his eye. A piece of the mask was broken and jabbed the optical organ quite severely. Over he tumbled on the ground, and it was several minutes before he revived sufficiently to continue the game.

In the second and fifth innings the locals made their runs. Heckathorn led off with a single. Emmerling walked. Webb went down on a fielder's choice and Heckathorn scored on a wild throw. Trainer and Herb Barker fanned. In the fifth an error by third gave Gibson first. He stole second. Reilly struck out. Davis got a hit and Gibson scored. Kid Barker and Heckathorn were easy outs.

Two hits in the sixth gave the visitors their only run. Johnson singled.

ROOSEVELT WAS DISPLEASED.

Didn't Like the Reference Made to Trusts and Laudation of Himself in the Sermon—McKinley's Memory Eulogized—Memorial Services Held.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Rev. Dr. Henry Homer Washburn, rector of Christ Episcopal church, in the presence of President Roosevelt and his family and a congregation that filled the church to overflowing, yesterday preached a sermon in which he devoted considerable attention to "Possibility of danger coming by and through the unguarded use of great wealth concentrated in the hands of a few," and in which he also stated that "if ever circumstances indicated that one was placed providentially in the executive chair of the nation, then the circumstances that attended the promotion of Mr. Roosevelt so indicated."

Yesterday was the first anniversary of the death of President McKinley and the president had requested Mr. Washburn to hold memorial services. The announcement that this would be done and that President Roosevelt would be present served to draw a large crowd to Christ church, which the president attends while here.

Eulogized Memory of McKinley.

The first part of the rector's sermon was devoted to an eulogy upon the life and character of the martyred McKinley, and to this the president listened attentively. But when in the second part of the sermon Mr. Washburn took occasion to speak of the possibility of danger coming through certain trusts, and also to laud the president, Mr. Roosevelt became restive. His face colored and he plainly showed signs of disapproval of the rector's utterances. At the conclusion of the sermon he turned to Mrs. Roosevelt, who sat beside him, and whispered, "He should not have done that."

After the services the president stated that he had requested Mr. Washburn to hold memorial services, but that he had no knowledge of what the sermon contained nor had he any intimation that the rector would refer to the trusts or to himself. Mr. Washburn also stated that he had prepared the sermon without consulting any members of the president's family.

Some Details of the Services.

Mr. Washburn was assisted by Rev. J. W. Hegeman, of New York, who read a prayer for the departed president. After the prayer and before the Litany the congregation sang, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," kneeling. Another of Mr. McKinley's favorite hymns, "Lead, Kindly Light," also was sung. The services closed with the hymn, "Our Fathers' God, to Thee," sung to the tune of "America." The hangings of the altar and chancel were in purple. Memorial exercises also were held in the other churches here and many of the flags that are flying for the reception today were placed at half-mast.

LITANY OF SAINTS SAID.

Cincinnati Catholic Churches Remember McKinley—Other Services. Cincinnati, Sept. 15.—McKinley memorial services were held in all the churches of this vicinity yesterday. There were special programs in many churches, including the favorite hymns of the martyred president. In the afternoon a concert was given at Eden park with a program suitable to the anniversary. Appropriate services were also held in all the benevolent and public institutions. In some churches the floral tributes were as elaborate as on Easter. In many places the portrait of McKinley was festooned with crepe and flowers. The posts of the Grand Army of the Republic attended in bodies at different churches. At the cathedral Archbishop Elder had the Litany of the Saints recited after high mass and all the Catholic churches held similar services.

In most of the Protestant churches the pastors spoke at the morning service on the life and character of McKinley and the lesson of his untimely death, but in the afternoon and evening judges, lawyers, professors from the University of Cincinnati and other prominent men addressed the congregations. No day was ever more generally observed in sacred or secular circles here. Suitable memorial exercises will be held in all the city schools today.

Police And Mayor Say "Chongey" Saved Them Trouble—Other Police Matters.

"Chongey" Carraher enjoys the distinction today of being a fugitive from justice without an officer even going to the trouble of asking about his whereabouts. They are all glad he is gone and would likely have escorted him to the city limits this morning whether it had been his wish or not.

Carraher was arrested on Saturday evening by Officers Woods and Bryan for being drunk. He is well acquainted with the doings at the city jail, having been there more times than he is years old, and yesterday when Acting Chief Dawson left the big iron door open while he was escorting another inebriate to a cell, Carraher sprang through the entrance, out through the wide hallway, and like a flash of lightning, with his hair flowing wildly and a look of fiendish delight darting from his eyes he made his way to Second street and from there to some point of safety. Had he known that that was exactly what the officers have been wanting him to do it is very likely that he would have shown a stubborn spirit and stayed a prisoner.

Mayor Davidson, when apprised of the man's escape this morning said, "Bully for Carraher. I am glad he went. It saved me the trouble of sending him."

Thomas McKeever went astray again. In his common condition, very drunk, Tommie was found by Officer Bryan. He had the pleasure of once more contributing to the city's coffers.

John Childs fell into the arms of stalwart Officer Morris in the Diamond while carrying two packages on Saturday night. His assessment was $5.60.

Andy Kohut was making things lively in East End on Saturday when Officer Spence nabbed him. He pleaded guilty to drunkenness and got the customary fine. Tom Hines was given 20 minutes in which to leave town. He was arrested by Officer McDermott.

IMPRESSIVE PULPIT DISCOURSES OF YESTERDAY.

Dr. Jones' First Sermon as M. P. Pastor—Addresses of Prof. Davies And Rev. J. W. Gorrell.

At the First Methodist Protestant church yesterday morning Rev. David Jones, D. D., preached his first sermon as regular pastor of that congregation. The music was of a high order.

Dr. Jones most impressively discussed the positive need of a love of Christ as being paramount to man's achievements of scholarship or flights of genius. His sermon was replete with many beautiful periods and the auditors were charmed with its beauty and logic. The impression that each member carried away from the meeting house was quite felicitous to the pastor.

At the Christian church yesterday morning Rev. J. W. Gorrell delivered a most interesting sermon to a large congregation. He chose for his subject "The Revelation of Things Unheard and Unseen." In part the pastor said:

"Love is the condition of receiving spiritual knowledge and blessings. To love God is to love His character. God is purity. God is merciful. Therefore to receive the spiritual things of God we must be pure in heart, must be merciful and ready to forgive. There is, in fact, no room in the heart of a Christian for hate and envy. Love is manifested by obedience to the commands of God. Obedience is better than sacrifice. No half-hearted Christian has a knowledge of spiritual things. There are no favored persons who can break the laws of health and be healthy. If obedience and love were perfect, then there would be perfect spiritual harmony in our lives. We have the spiritual revealed to us through and by use of the things of this life. Paul used the world as a telescope to see the things that God had prepared for them that love Him. Jesus came to establish us in the knowledge of eternal things. The gospel of eternal things is hid only to those whose minds are blinded by an evil heart of unbelief."

Rev. Prof. Davies, of Gambier seminary, spoke at St. Stephen's church Sunday, and the congregation had the pleasure of hearing two very able sermons.

In his morning address Prof. Davies took his text from St. Luke 7:13, "The Raising of the Son of the Widow of Nain."

In the evening his discourse was from Judges 5:20. The speaker told of how Jabin was oppressing the people of Canaan, and that their condition was desperate, that they were apparently helpless and without hope, but in the midst of their despair there rose up a woman, Deborah, who had not given up hope, but called upon the Lord for help, and raised the people to action, and she asked Barak to rally them at Mt. Tabor, and he did so, and Jabin hearing of this, sent Sisera, his general, against them, and a battle was fought at Megiddo, and the people put their trust in God and He helped them so that "The stars in their courses fought against Sisera," and he was completely overwhelmed and defeated.

Steubenville U. P. Organization to Act on Rev. W. B. Campbell's Resignation.

A meeting of the Steubenville U. P. presbytery was held this afternoon at the First U. P. church for the purpose of taking action upon the resignation of Rev. William B. Campbell from the presbytery.

It will be remembered that at the morning service at the Calcutta United Presbyterian church last Sunday Mr. Campbell tendered his resignation as pastor of the church, stating at the time he proposed to leave the ministry and enter the medical profession. The resignation was acted upon at once and was accepted, as was stated exclusively in this paper at the time.

The resignation will likely be accepted by the presbytery also. Most of those who live at a distance arrived in the city at noon today, and the meeting will continue throughout the afternoon.

ELOQUENT EULOGIES OF WM. M'KINLEY FEELINGLY SPOKEN

Dr. Manchester, His Former Pastor, and Other
Ministers Draw Lessons From the Martyr's Life.

McKinley memorial day was appropriately observed in several of the local churches yesterday. Chief interest centered in the sermon by Dr. Manchester.

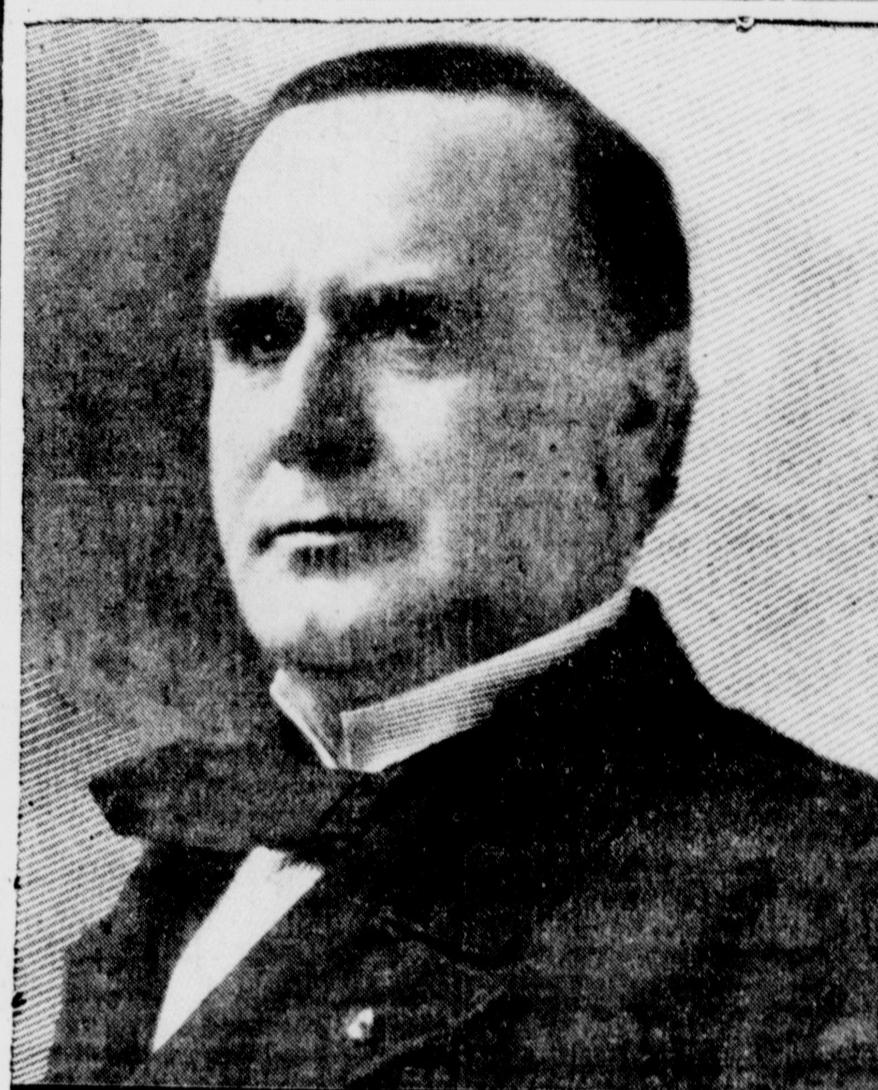

With the deepest reverence one of the largest congregations that ever assembled in the First M. E. church listened to the eulogies of the late martyred and widely loved president, William McKinley, spoken by the Rev. C. E. Manchester, presiding elder of the East Ohio conference, last evening.

Dr. Manchester, having been for years an intimate friend of the man of whom words of praise were uttered in all parts of the United States yesterday, and having been his pastor at Canton and a true friend to the wife and mother, was perhaps more fitted to deliver the address than any other living man.

His remarks were most touching. Many were moved to tears. Reminiscences repeated by the speaker showing the life of McKinley one of grandeur, loveliness and purity in character appealed to all. In part Dr. Manchester said:

"When the body of McKinley was lying in state at Canton magnificent displays, tokens of love and fond respect for the grand man, enshrouded the remains. The display was most beautiful, but amongst the bower a few common flowers, wilted and the stems broken, attracted the gaze of all eyes and left an impression that will never die. A note tied to this little bunch of withered flowers, written by a little girl, showed that McKinley was not only loved by the older

CHARTER OF N. B. OF O. P. FOUR WEEKS HAVE PAST

tract System.

And the Actual Progress Toward Legislation Has Not Been Great—Hanna
And Campaign Party Expected
to Visit East Liverpool.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, Sept. 15.—The legislature today entered upon the fourth week of its extraordinary session. At the beginning it was predicted that the solons would get away for good within six weeks and some figured the session would not last longer than one month. It will be remembered that, in July, Hon. J. A. Shauck, justice of the supreme court, who, more than any member of that body, was responsible for the decision which reduced to atoms Ohio's form of municipal government, issued a statement declaring that the general assembly would be able to finish its work in a little over ten days; but events show how wide of the mark those in high places may shoot at times.

A clever move was made previous to the holding of the trial before the executive board recently, and had the deliberations of that body resulted as a majority of the members of No. 22 thought, all would have been well, but they did not.

Those of the mouldmakers who have the best interests of the Brotherhood at heart have realized for some time that there were men in the organization whose purpose it was to disrupt the union. When the union was tried for an alleged violation of the laws, it was the belief of the loyal ones that the executive board would impose a fine, or at most suspend the local for a certain length of time. Had this been done the society would have been better off than ever before, as the better element concluded that when the reinstatement took place these mischief makers would not be among the membership, since they had no real interest in the organization.

Representative Seese, of Summit, said last night that he would introduce his belated school code not later than Tuesday. The only bill passed thus far is the Royer act which has been made a half law by the senate and has been placed on its second reading in the house. It may be passed this week.

The Republican state committee is arranging Senator Hanna's special train itinerary. It has been proposed that he make his first stop at East Liverpool after his appearance at the Akron opening, stopping there while on his way to West Virginia, where he will fill engagements at Wheeling and Parkersburg. The senator promised Representative Duval, of Jefferson county, and Chairman Paisley, of the county committee, of Steubenville, that he would speak in that city, and he may do this after leaving East Liverpool on his trip south. He also promised to appear in Lisbon, providing he could make the arrangement. The Akron opening takes place September 27. It seems that Columbiana is destined to get a taste of oratory from the big guns in both parties. Tom Johnson is scheduled for an address in Salem.

Rev. W. F. McCauley, of Salem, will be one of the speakers at the anti-saloon congress which will be held in Cincinnati. His topic will be, "A Defense of the Saloon."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook, of East Liverpool, were in the city Saturday night. They were on their way from Kokomo, Ind., where Mr. Cook has been on business for his father.

DEATH MAY RESULT TO AN AGED FARMER WHO FELL FROM CAR

Not Being Familiar With Electrical Vehicles
He Walked Off and Was Badly
Injured.

While riding on a street car which was going at full speed in Chester this morning at about 6:30 o'clock, John Mellen, an aged farmer living near Hookstown, deliberately stepped off the running board, fell violently to the ground and as a result lies in a critical condition at the home of his son on a shanty boat tied to the river bank near the old flint mill.

The motorman stopped the car immediately and by the aid of several eye witnesses to the accident placed Mellen in the car and removed him to the office of Dr. Lewis, on Virginia avenue. Dr. Hobbs, of this city, was then summoned and the two physicians attended the injured man. They found that he had sustained a badly cut eye, concussion of the brain on the right of his head, and that there were some signs of his being hurt internally. He complained of his right shoulder giving him much pain, but no dislocation or broken bones were discovered. The physicians state that owing to the man's age, there is a possibility of the accident resulting fatally.

Following the examination and the dressing of the wounds Mellen was removed on a car to the Diamond where the patrol wagon was in waiting and from there it took him to the home of his son.

The son states that his father left this city early this morning, intending to go to his farm and states that he, although not a total abstainer, was not under the influence of liquor. As a reason for the elderly man's rash act, it is stated that he has ridden but little on cars and probably was not aware that the alighting when a car in at full speed seldom results otherwise than disastrously.

WELL ON DAWSON FARM GOOD FOR 100 BARRELS

The oil well which was brought in on the Dawson farm by Mike Finnegan, of Pittsburgh, is considered the best that has been brought in in this section for many months. This well came in through the sand Saturday morning, and it was drilled in this morning. It is reported to be making 100 barrels a day, and has been since Saturday flowing from the casing. William Gailey, of Pittsburg, who was on the ground when this well came in, offered Mr. Dawson $4,000 for one sixteenth interest in his one-eighth interest. This offer was refused.

This morning five wells were located in that section, one by LeCompte & Co., two by Mr. Finnegan and two by Stewart Bros., of New York. An engine has been placed at a favorable place on Mill Creek and water will be pumped from the creek to the oil fields for the boilers used in the field. A pipe line has been laid from the creek to the field. The territory gives promise of being one of the most productive in this part of the country.

MINISTERS' PETITION:

LEAVE BEAL LAW ALONE

The September meeting of the East Liverpool and Wellsville joint ministerial association was held this morning in the parlors at the Y. M. C. A. hall, and although the attendance was not very large, a sufficient number were present to hold a meeting.

In the absence of the regular secretary, Rev. W. M. Glasgow, Rev. L. C. Wells, pastor of the M. P. church at Wellsville, was placed in that position. Local ministers who attended the meeting claim that no business for the press could be given out by the secretary.

It was learned from other sources, however, that some important questions were considered at the meeting. It was stated, and from a source considered most reliable, that it was the wish of the association that at the present session of the legislature the Beal law shall not be changed from its present reading.

It is said that a committee was appointed to prepare a petition containing this request, and that is will be forwarded to the legislature soon.

Members of the association who reside in this city were seen just after the adjournment, but they did not care to talk of the session. One member stated that nothing of importance was done, and that the association had passed a resolution to the effect that the secretary should give out all the news.

SICK FOR TWO YEARS

AND NO DOCTOR CALLED

Being ill for almost two years, with no medical attention, Mrs. Mary Smurda, a native of Austria, died at her home at Walker yesterday. No one appears to know the cause of her death, and all that Undertaker Tod could glean from the members of the family was, that she had been ill for two years; was compelled to take her last Saturday week, and died Saturday morning. That was all that the members of the family told in broken English, and that is all that will ever be known. The cause of the woman's death will likely remain a mystery.

The age of the woman was placed at 70 years, but even this may not be right. The funeral services were held this morning at St. Aloysius church, and interment was at the Catholic cemetery. The foreigners residing at Walker are about as illiterate as can be found anywhere. As they cannot speak the American language, it is a wonder that any information can be secured from them on any subject.

As is required in all cases, the causes of death were asked, and when no one appeared to know, the name of the attending physician was asked. None had attended the woman, and these blanks will be left unfilled in the death report of the undertaker which is to be filed at Lisbon.

Chicken Case Decided.
Squire McLane has rendered a decision in the case of George J. Clark against Charles B. Applegate. The plaintiff is to retain possession of the four chickens, the ownership of which gave rise to the case but both the defendant and plaintiff will be compelled to pay the cost, which are to be divided equally.

A pretty wedding at which Squire McLane officiated occurred on Saturday evening when Miss Clara Henry and Charles Butler were united in the presence of only a few friends. Both are respected residents of the city and have the good wishes of all.

T. J. DUFFY IS UNWILLING TO RUN

Will Endeavor to Keep Democrats From Nominating Him For Congress.

If the name of T. J. Duffy is selected by the Democrats of the Eighteenth congressional district in convention at Alliance tomorrow, to fill a place on the party ticket, it will be against that gentleman's will. Mr. Duffy is satisfied with the situation just as it is, and will not favor any plan for a mixup with the Democracy.

According to the expressed opinion of a large number of East Liverpool Democrats this is going to be easier said than done. The leaders of the party will insist upon placing Mr. Duffy's name before the convention, and as there have been no other candidates mentioned it is quite likely he will receive the honor.

A number of labor leaders have been using every effort within the past few days to induce the Democrats to give up the idea of insisting upon placing any candidate's name upon the Democratic congressional ticket, much less Duffy's, but the attempts have failed. They insist that any intimation of a fusion with the Democrats will hurt the East Liverpool candidate's chances and that if he leaves the labor ticket, there will be no use in making the race.

BOY'S BACK BROKEN IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

As the result of a thrilling runaway accident which occurred on last Friday evening, Benjamin McCoy, aged 14 years, the son of Harry H. McCoy, of Fredricktown, is confined to bed, physically ruined for life.

The unfortunate lad had been to this city and was returning home in a spring wagon drawn by two fractious horses which were driven by Howard Houston when the horses became frightened at the sudden appearance of a white cow along side of the road and before the driver had a chance to check them they plunged madly forward and commenced running at an awful rate of speed. On a terrorizing gallop they sped over the road and finally crashed into a big oak tree. Young McCoy was hurled into the air and struck on a ragged stone, one of the sharp edges striking his back bone, breaking it and throwing him into a state of terrible agony.

Howard escaped serious injury, as did also the horses. In a few minutes the injured one was being conveyed to the office of Dr. Bean, at Calcutta. The physician made a quick examination and found the boy to be in a deplorable condition above described.

The youngster has many friends in the community in which he lives. He is particularly bright and it seems too bad that one with such a bright future should become the victim of such an accident.

More than half of the former membership of No. 22 have resolved to ask for a charter, the conditions to be as follows: Every member will pledge

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

AMERICAN POTTERS' PROGRESS.

The News Review is in receipt of some valuable information concerning the conditions of the pottery industry of England (Staffordshire districts) which will be read with interest, not only by the older English potters now employed in this city, but by the public in general. These reports, some of which have been sent from English papers, show beyond doubt that the pottery trade of England is declining, and more rapidly than one would suppose, and the business that was once held so firmly in the hands of the British manufacturer is now being secured by the American manufacturer. In short, "the worm is turning."

It is not to be regretted that such conditions exist, from the view of a patriotic American, and especially by those who live in the pottery districts of this country, and in what is now and will be in the future, the center of the pottery district of America, East Liverpool. Not an idle pottery in this part of the Ohio valley. It may be that one or two small shops are idle throughout the country, but these are possibly so small that not much attention is being paid to them. Very different are the conditions in England. In the Staffordshire district it is said that out of a possible total of 304 potteries, 25 are for rent, sale or lease. No such conditions as these prevail in America.

Some manufacturers think there are not potteries enough, and almost every month one will read of additions being built and of new potteries also. There is cause for all this. The American manufacturer has invaded the territory of the English manufacturer, conquered the trade once held by his competitor, and is now reaping the harvest. But the end is not yet. Just a few days ago the statement was made to the writer, by a gentleman who is actually more conversant with conditions than any other person in this city, that it was his firm belief that within the next ten or twelve years, there would be no ware imported into the United States and that most of the crockery sold in England would bear the stamp, "Made in America."

Continuing this gentleman said that the trade of the English manufacturer seems almost incredible, but figures and hard facts were presented, all of which showed that the gentleman, who is a resident of this city, knew whereof he spoke.

In a recent issue of the Staffordshire Sentinel it told how slow the English potteries were working, and that workmen in the Staffordshire potteries were working but a few days a week. Pressers reported work as being very scarce in the district, while the sanitary pressers were having more work than they have had for months.

In the beginning of the English story the intimation is made that the exports were increasing, but facts prove it otherwise. Information received here this morning from England states that the largest potteries in the Staffordshire district are doing but two and three days a week. The Daultons pottery, which is considered one of the best in that district, is running better than the other large ones.

classed as Minton's, Cauldon Place and Wedgwood's, whose plants are running fairly well. Their business, however, is not as it formerly was. It is in these potteries that the best of the English china goods are made, hence they are doing better than other plants. Of course there is quite an amount of strictly high class ware imported into this country at present, but it is all made in the potteries referred to above. A printer in an English pottery receives on an average of $10.50 a week, and this is divided among the crew. His transferer receives about $3 a week, but it is considered a lucky girl who has that amount in her envelope.

"It is a safe prediction that, if the English pottery workmen were told of the extent of the pottery business in East Liverpool," said an English potter, a few days ago, "they would be thinking a fairy tale was being told them, or would at once make arrangements to come here. It would not matter whether the operative had a position before he left his old home or not, he would be able to secure employment in East Liverpool the day after he arrived. When these facts become known to the pottery workmen of England, and just as soon as they can raise enough funds to pay their passage to America, there will be an exodus of pottery workers to the west. Wages are higher, work is more abundant, and conditions more favorable to work under than in England. As soon as the English potter commences to realize these facts he will not be long in making up his mind to come here."

As to the class of ware made in this country, it has been said by a prominent English manufacturer, that the ware made in East Liverpool was almost equal to that made in the best and largest potteries in the Staffordshire district. Advances are being rapidly made in this line, and this is why the statement has been made that American made ware is fast replacing that made in England. There is however, a lack of high class decorators in this country and when some of the higher class of English decorators and designers come to East Liverpool, nothing can stop the rapid progress that is being made in this district by the manufacturing potters. It is true, however, that if there were a few more high class decorators in this district, ware could be produced that could not be beat by a manufacturer in any other part of the country, so far as producing high class pottery is concerned. Still, rapid strides have been made in this direction by several East Liverpool firms within the past two years, and the result in the increased business of these firms has been nothing short of wonderful. Improvements are being made in the decorative departments of the local potteries almost daily, and another year will see still more changes, all of which will be of benefit to the local manufacturers, and to East Liverpool.

TRADE IS GROWING. The demand for pottery continues unabated and good activity is noted pretty generally among the Western potteries. The majority are well supplied with business. The present business situation is wholesome and the future looks bright for the remainder of the year. No buyers of importance visited this city the past week. The mails, however, are bringing liberal orders. Good reports come from the traveling men in nearly all sections—especially the west and south. There is a noted improvement in demands from the east, and salesmen and representatives in that section are now sending in a good many important orders. There is a large sprinkling of specialties contained in current orders and an increased inquiry for everything new in that line, betokening a stronger demand for these this fall.

RESUMED WORK. The East End brick yard, operated by Contractors Gamble & Surles, has resumed operations after a few days shut down on account of some repairs having to be made to the machinery. The plant will remain in steady operation until the first of the year at least.

Mr. Fleming stated that the Steubenville pottery was working full time, and everything about the shop was in the best possible condition. ### ON LIBRARY SHELVES

Two Entertaining Stories of American Life Lately Published.

"Craque O'Doom," by Mary Hartwell Catherwood, the author of "Lazarre," now in the Carnegie library, is one of the most unique yet interesting books of the year. The scene of the story is laid in a rural American village in the early sixties.

In Tamsin Chenoworth, the heroine of the story, is found a descendant of probably the lowest type of family. For several generations the Chenoworths had figured in dreadful crimes. Tamsin seemed the only redeeming feature, with her proud spirit and lofty ideals. Her abilities were discovered, and her rise, above her surroundings, to a useful and noble life, follows.

Rich in unconscious drollery, touched with tender pathos, and imbued with stirring patriotism, "The Starbuck," is a typical American novel. Whether Low was made to marry Lije; whether Fetterson's love of a "hoss trade" exceeded his powers of prast; how the mountain preacher at last yielded to the love of an admirable woman; how Mrs. Spencer consoled Margaret, and how Judge Elliott reversed all precedent—these and other things are told most charmingly, with keen humor and touching pathos in this latest, and undoubtedly the best of Opie Read's clever stories. "The Starbuck" has been enjoying great popularity.

EAST END*CAINED HIS POINT

Former East Liverpool Reporter Successfully Contends Against Police In Los Angeles.

Archie Searight, of Pennsylvania avenue, has received a number of papers from Los Angeles, California, which contains some interesting reading. Frank Searight, who is a son of Archie Searight, and who for several years was employed in the local newspaper field, is employed on one of the Los Angeles papers. It appears that two reporters from the paper upon which Mr. Searight is working had occasion to seek some information from the police which was of vital importance to the public. This was refused, the police cursing Mr. Searight and another reporter named Wing, and telling them, "the public be hanged."

After this stormy interview charges were preferred against the officers for using profane language, and they were given a hearing before the board of police commissioners. They were found guilty and were given a severe reprimand. Then the desired information was obtained, and now the police are howling to the papers to "let up on them." However, the reporters gained their point, which was to be expected.

ATTACKED HIS EMPLOYER

An East End Baker, Who Was Discharged, Tried to Get Even But Failed.

Because he spoiled several batches of baking, in three days, a baker from Pittsburgh who was employed for three days by J. B. McKinnon, of the East End, attempted to assault his employer Saturday evening, and got the worst of the deal. It appears that after the man was asked to resign his position and was paid $7 for his three days' work, he went out and loaded up on bad whiskey. He returned to the bakery and demanded his return fare to Pittsburgh, but of course this was refused him.

Just then Mr. McKinnon had occasion to stoop down to pick something from the floor, and then it was that the baker tried to throw him down by catching Mr. McKinnon by the neck. He failed in this for McKinnon was too swift for him. The baker has left the East End, but McKinnon did not put up the money for the railroad fare.

NO REFRIGERATOR CARS

East Liverpool Railway Will Not Run Summer Vehicles When the Weather Is Cold.

During the chilly mornings the East Liverpool Railway company will not put out its summer cars. This decision was reached yesterday by Supt. Thomas Reed. For a week or more the weather has been so chilly in the early morning that frequently the blinds of the summer cars were kept down until noon.

Between Wellsville and East Liverpool the ride is so chilly during the early part of the day that the company thought it might be just as well to place the box cars on the road in place of the summer cars. This was done this morning, much to the delight of the traveling public.

NOT AS ADVERTISED

The Much Talked of East End Races Were Most Disappointing.

There was to have been several "good" races at Columbian park Saturday afternoon, but as it was there were several poor attempts at racing. Julius, who styles himself the "terrible Swede," advertised the fact that he would race five horses on a motor cycle, but it appears that the horses were ill and could not run. But Julius did. He ran from the track to the box office several times to count the receipts, and then the crowd also ran to the gate.

There was no motor race or horse race. There was, however, several hundred people fooled, and that was all there was to it. Officer Fisher was present to preserve order, and for a time it looked as though he would have work on his hands. Matters passed off quietly, however, but there was not a horse race or motor race. ing but a common potato race and a common bicycle race. That was all.

A Coming Wedding.

Word has been received in the East End of the approaching marriage of Edward Russell, employed as a warehouseman at the Globe pottery, and Mrs. Annie C. Eaton, of Cincinnati. Mrs. Eaton was formerly a resident of this city, and after their marriage, which will take place in East Liverpool, the couple will go to housekeeping in the East End, where both are well known. The date of the wedding has not been announced.

Quarterly Communion.

The regular quarterly communion service will be observed at the Second United Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. Owing to this fact preparatory service will be held in this church under the direction of Rev. D. W. McQuiston next Thursday and Friday evenings. It may be that a brother of the pastor of the East End church will assist in these services.

In a Serious Condition.

Word was received in the East End this morning from Georgetown of the serious illness of Mrs. Elizabeth Peppard, of Georgetown. She has been suffering with paralysis for the past three years and her condition yesterday was such that it was thought the end was near. She has many friends in this part of the city.

A meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church, will be held Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. N. Swan, on St. George street.

Fireman John Spence, of the East End fire station, proposes to build a new residence. Saturday afternoon he let the contract for its erection to Contractor Curtis, of the East End.

Travel on the East Liverpool railway was delayed for a short time Saturday evening, a car in charge of Motorman Henry Moore jumping the track at the switch on Ohio avenue. It was soon replaced.

The East End tribe of Ben Hur will meet this evening in their hall on First avenue, at which time a number of new members will be received into the order and several other applications for membership presented for consideration. The meeting gives promise of being an interesting one.

ECZEMA CURED*LIFE PLANT.

Stillwater, O., Nov. 5th, 1898.
Life Plant Co.

Messrs.—After trying the best physicians and the popular remedies of the day for fifteen years for a stubborn case of Eczema, without being benefited, and as physicians claimed there was no cure for me I had concluded to abandon the use of all medicines, believing my case incurable.

Six years ago, hearing through a friend who had tried it, that LIFE PLANT was a wonderful remedy, I was persuaded to make one more trial. $5 worth of LIFE PLANT cured me and I would not take the disease back to keep for thousands of dollars. I was cured six years ago and the disease does not return.

Since being cured myself I have persuaded a number of my friends who had bad cases of Eczema, to try LIFE PLANT, and it cured in every case; and the best of all is, they stay cured. I have given you herein a plain statement of facts and you are at liberty to publish the same for the benefit of those afflicted.

Yours truly,

W. H. HOUK.

The News Review during the fall and winter months last year, published a series of articles forming a "Home Study Course," presenting natural science in popular language. The favor with which these articles were received has led us to decide upon a second course for this year. They will form the most entertaining and valuable reading matter—a veritable mine of useful information. This course will appear only in the columns of the News Review, and we are confident that it will be read with avidity and interest by all classes of readers.

Throughout this broad land, press, pulpit and people yesterday paid homage to the memory of William McKinley. His fame was of the enduring sort, and his greatness as a statesman and a leader is better recognized and more generally appreciated now than when he was living and working for the good of his people. Truly, the memory of a just man is blessed.

Following the example set by the government in prohibiting the sale of liquor to Indians, the navy department has ordered that none be sold in our Samoan possessions. This is a wise decision. Uniform experience with native races the world over is that the introduction of liquor among them soon leads them into intemperance, and in such excess that they are rapidly demoralized.

According to a prominent financial paper of London, English railroads are so over-capitalized that they are on the verge of bankruptcy. It advocates that the principles of American railroad management be applied, if they would avert disaster.

A Democratic congress would mean a revision of the tariff on Democratic lines. The people have not forgotten the effect of the Wilson bill, and will not vote to strike a blow at the industrial interests of the whole country.

Tom L. Johnson's circus itinerary has not been arranged to include East Liverpool. Perhaps the manager has heard how a fake show was treated here a few months ago.

St. Louis has an idea that bribe-givers as well as bribe-takers ought to be punished. Proceeding on that line, the city may be able in time to root out the evil.

The price of whisky has advanced, but it is strongly asserted that it is merely a coincidence and not a result of the opening of the fall political campaigns.

Italy proposes to have an electrical mail route with a speed of four miles a minute. Italian bandits will have to be swift if they catch that mail train.

Tom Johnson, who professes to be a strong advocate of home rule, brings a would-be boss from Nebraska to Ohio to tell the people how to vote.

Prosperity is something the American people do not tire of. That is why Democratic theories are receiving little popular attention now.

As long as manufacturers have nothing to complain of except inability to fill orders fast enough they won't vote for a change of conditions.

While the Democrats elsewhere are talking of reorganizing, the disorganized Ohio Democracy proceeds apace.

Bryan is still predicting calamity. Time was when some people believed him, but they know him better now.

Cuba appears more eager to get in debt than to get to work.

WELLSVILLE COUPLES ARE AFTER DIVORCE

MRS. MINNIE WARD TELLS A TALE OF INHUMAN CRUELTY.

John R. Hawke Alleges That His Wife Has Deserted Him.

Lisbon, September 15.—(Special)—Two more divorce actions were filed in court today. Mrs. Minnie Ward, of Wellsville, asks for a separation from George Ward, whom she fears will do her bodily harm. She married him in New Cumberland, W. Va., in 1899, and says she was obliged to leave her husband two years later on account of his inhuman conduct. She says he is possessed of vicious habits and has a violent temper. When she separated from him he seized a razor and she believes would have killed her had she not escaped from him. Just before this he struck her with his fist between the shoulders and knocked the breath from her body. Her maiden name was Kinkade and she wants it restored to her.

John R. Hawke, of Wellsville, is the other applicant and wants a divorce from Narcissa C. Hawke. He married her in Carroll county in 1882, and she has now been absent from him over three years, during which time she has been in Carroll county. They are the parents of a son and daughter, aged 17 and 19 years.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Aeronaut Johnson in Jail Charged With Wife Beating.

Lisbon, September 15.—(Special)—Frank Johnson, the aeronaut, of Salem, was brought to the county jail on Saturday to be held for the grand jury. He was arrested for beating and abusing his wife.

This brings the list of prisoners up to 19, and with the exception of one, they will be before the grand jury.

On that last day when he realized that science had been defeated and nothing more could be done, he said to his beloved wife: "Ida, this is God's way. His will, not ours, be done. Forever we shall hold him as an example of loyalty and of a loving Christian man."

At the First U. P. church last evening Dr. J. C. Taggart preached on "Honor to the Memory of Our Dead President By Training the Youth of Our Land in the Patriotism And Christian Virtues He Loved And Exemplified."

The discourse was both eloquent and instructive. Many beautiful thoughts were expressed by the pastor, who had been intimately acquainted with the martyred president.

The services at St. John Evangelical Lutheran church were well attended last evening. Rev. J. G. Reinartz made special reference to the death of President McKinley in "The Harvest Home of Heaven," and his address was one of the best ever listened to in the church. The large congregation was deeply impressed by the eloquent sermon, and it will doubtless be productive of much good.

"The Righteous Shall Be in Everlasting Remembrance" was the subject of Rev. N. M. Crowe's sermon at the Second Presbyterian church last evening, and as all patriotic societies and school children had been given a special invitation, the attendance was unusually large. The sermon was an excellent one, and those present at the service were moved to an unusual degree.

James Wallace is ill at his home on Seventh street suffering from typhoid fever.

Attorney P. A. Garvin, of Toronto, was in the city over Sunday visiting friends.

William Farmer, of Hancock county, was the guest of Squire McLane this morning.

Harry Oliver, of Lisbon street, who has been ill for several days, is able to eat.

Mrs. Evan McPherson, residing north of the city, is very ill with gastric fever.

John Laughlin, of Minerva street, has moved his family and household effects to Cambridge Springs.

Lawrence Allison, wife and son, of Dennison, are guests at the home of Eck Allison, north of the city.

Miss Alice Ross will leave this week for Steubenville, where she will be employed in a millinery establishment.

Sherman Money Penny is very ill at his home on Second street suffering with hemorrhages. His condition is very low.

Mrs. Jennie Britton, of Syracuse, N. Y., has arrived to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Larkins, of Thompson hill.

Miss Alice Suttmeyer, who has been spending the summer months at her home in the East End, Pittsburgh, is the house guest of Mrs. John Heist, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hall, of McKinley avenue, entertained a large number of friends at their home Saturday evening. Several out-of-town guests were present and a delightful time was spent by all.

BLANKETS! GO TO THE LEADER

That breezy farce, "Mr. Plaster of Paris," comes to the Grand tonight. This play has received an ovation from the very first act and has proved itself one of the greatest comedy successes that has been written in recent years. "Mr. Plaster of Paris" is not of the ordinary farce comedy school but rather of the more substantial sort.

ELOQUENT EULOGIES OF WM. M'KINLEY FEELINGLY SPOKEN

God's teachings. He was always upright at home and among his fellowmen. He was pure in speech, thought and life.

"His Christian life was simple and unaffected. Although his life was a busy one he always found time to read a portion of the Bible and utter a prayer to God before retiring. In prayer he was most fervent.

"His domestic life was full of love and affection for all in his household. His love for Mrs. McKinley is almost without a parallel. His last thoughts were of her. When struck by the assassin's bullet and after failing into the arms of Secretary Cortelyou, he spoke of her, saying, 'Break the news gently to Ida.'

"The night before he left for Buffalo a friend prayed him not to go. The friend told him of the dangers and pleaded. 'I belong to the people,' replied McKinley. 'If anything does happen to me, I want you to know that I am prepared to go.'

"On that last day when he realized that science had been defeated and nothing more could be done, he said to his beloved wife: 'Ida, this is God's way. His will, not ours, be done. Forever we shall hold him as an example of loyalty and of a loving Christian man.'

WELLSVILLE*FOUGHT THE CHIEF

AN EAST LIVERPOOL MAN INTERFERES WITH OFFICER.

Taken Into Custody in Jefferson County, Brought Back And Fined Heavily.

While Chief Thorn was escorting Andy Hoover to the city lockup on Saturday evening, having found him in a drunken condition on Third street, he was interfered with on the public square by George Rutledge, of East Liverpool, who attempted to make the chief release his man.

When Rutledge came within reaching distance of the chief he received a stunning blow from the chief's mace, and by way of retaliation picked up a sharp stone and threw it at the officer. The stone landed on Thorn's chin and cut a deep gash, causing blood to flow freely.

By this time Thorn released his hold on Hoover and started after Rutledge, who started to run. The chief pulled his gun and shot once in the air, but did not at the time catch Rutledge. He returned to Hoover, who was too full to know what was going on and finally landed him in jail.

Chief Thorn went in search of Rutledge and hunted all night for him. Early Sunday morning he learned that Rutledge had gone to the home of his father-in-law, Wesley Wright, who lives in Jefferson county just over the Columbian county line. As Chief Thorn is a constable and has authority outside of the city, he at once drove to the home of Wright to place Rutledge in custody.

When he arrived at the house Wright came to the door and told the officer that Rutledge was not there.

Rutledge, however, at once put in an appearance and wanted to give himself up to the officer. Wright, however, would not have it that way and said that he would blow the officer's brains out before he would let him take anyone from his household.

It did not take the chief long, however, to get Rutledge and he finally landed him in the city jail.

Sunday afternoon the chief, accompanied by Detective Moore, of the C. & P. road, drove to Irondale, where he secured a warrant for Wright's arrest, charging him with obstructing an officer in the discharge of his duty and served the warrant himself. He took Wright back to Irondale, where he was placed in jail.

Rutledge was brought before Mayor Foggy Sunday morning and was fined $50 and costs, a sum which he is unable to pay and unless the amount is forthcoming from some of his relatives or friends within the next day or two Rutledge will probably be sent to the Canton workhouse. Hoover was fined $4.60 and arranged for payment.

MAYOR KEPT BUSY

Six Prisoners Appeared Before Mayor Foggy for Hearings This Morning.

For about 30 minutes Mayor Foggy did a land office business this morning and gave six prisoners a hearing, all of whom were arrested last evening. Two of Contractor Rinehart's colored laborers, William Howard and Thomas Powell, who were arrested by Officers Thorn and Houser, appeared before the mayor on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly. They at first pleaded not guilty, but finding that it would cost them less to plead guilty they changed their plea and were each fined $4.75.

Three Italian youngsters giving their names as Dominick Martin, Dennis Saul and Lewis D. Orr, who were arrested last evening by Officers Thorn and Houser, were given a hearing. Two were charged with being drunk and disorderly and the third was charged with carrying concealed weapons. All pleaded not guilty and their trial was set for later in the day, at which time witnesses will be called in.

John H. Powers, who is also employed by Contractor Rinehart, was given a hearing this morning. He was taken into custody by Officer Houser at Third street and Broadway last evening charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was assessed $4.75, but could neither pay the fine nor furnish security. Unless some of his friends come to his rescue he will probably be sent to the Canton workhouse.

A GARBAGE PIT

Improvement Committee Has Been Investigating Available Sites for One.

The improvement committee of council, which is composed of Councilmen Brennen, McCormick and Henderson, accompanied by Mayor Foggy, of the board of health, made a trip to the extreme west end of the city on Sunday afternoon for the purpose of looking up a site for a big garbage pit, a matter which has been the topic of general conversation for the last few days.

After looking over several pieces of property, two small strips of land were finally picked out, and if either can be purchased by the city that property will be turned into a garbage pit.

One of the strips of land is located just back of the old Champion Fire, Brick & Clay company's plant and the other strip is nearby.

It is the intention of the committee to dig a large pit and have all of the garbage that is put into the pit, covered with lime. Bids will be called in and a contract let for the taking charge of the gathering of garbage throughout the city. Several have already applied to members of the committee for the job, and it is expected that at least three bids will be received.

COUNCIL MEETING

Important Matters For the Consideration of the City Fathers Tonight.

Council will convene in regular session this evening at which time important new business will be brought up. It is expected that some action will be taken relative to placing fire plugs along Steubenville street in response to the petition, which has been circulated among the citizens along that thoroughfare.

An action is also looked for relative to a garbage pit, a matter which is in the hands of the improvement committee.

The light committee will also make a report to the council stating what they have done relative to placing new gas lights at different street intersections in the city.

Wrs. Kollina Wins Her Suit.

SOUTH SIDE*BIG COAL DEAL

MARQUET COMPANY'S PURCHASE NEAR GEORGETOWN.

A Coal Railroad And Mines Are Also Promised Out Mill Creek.

Considerable excitement is prevailing in the vicinity of Georgetown, not only on account of the recent oil discoveries in that part of Beaver county, and vicinity, but because there is every prospect of large coal territory being developed in that section. Many times coal properties have been leased in the vicinity of Georgetown, but not once has any of the property been opened.

A large coal deal was completed Saturday afternoon at Georgetown, but so far no figures have been announced. The Cumberland Coal company, which is composed of William Marquet and others who owned the Marquet coal interests at New Cumberland until recently, on Saturday purchased the Finley farm for coal purposes. This farm was owned by William Finley, who formerly owned a grocery in the East End, East Liverpool. This company also purchased the Slope mine out Mill Creek some time ago, and it will be but a short time until a number of miners will be put to work there.

Following the purchase of the Finley farm comes the announcement that when work is commenced on the New Cumberland extension to Monaca from Chester, a branch road will be built out Mill Creek of standard gauge. The hills of that part of Mill creek valley abound in coal, and all the coal mined up the valley could be at once loaded upon cars and shipped direct to the markets. That this branch road will be built there is no doubt. The only thing holding back the commencement of the work is the construction of the railroad extension.

NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT

An Independent District for Chester Is Desired By Many.

A number of prominent business and professional men, as well as several councilmen, earnestly desire that the town be organized into an independent school district. County Superintendent G. A. Allison and Thompson Allison, president of the board of education, are strongly in favor of such a step.

According to this arrangement the property values in each ward would be about the same, and there would be about 100 voters in each. This division would of course necessitate the holding of elections at three places instead of one, but the expense would be so slight and would not be paid by the tax payers, but by the candidates and their backers.

At the first election one man in each ward could be elected for one year, the other for two years. At the elections following, each ward could elect one man for two years. By this arrangement there would always be three councilmen with at least years' experience in governing the city, while under the present method of electing the council may be filled with totally inexperienced men at every election.

Other cities have been divided into wards on reaching Chester's size and stage of business activity. It is the very basis of the American system of government to elect representatives from clearly defined districts, rather than from the whole district governed.

Under the present arrangement the Grant district school board levies and spends the school tax of the town. To organize an independent school district it is necessary for the school board in control to place the subject before the people at an election. Then, if the vote is favorable, a special act of the legislature will be passed establishing the district. If Chester is not organized by the legislature, which convenes in February, nothing can be done until the legislature meets again.

There is still sufficient time to take the necessary steps to secure a presentation of the subject at the election in November, but Thompson Allison, in whose hands the matter rests, states that he will do nothing until a number of the citizens of Chester urge him to act.

Driving his spirited horse through the Diamond yesterday afternoon at a speed clip came dangerously near resulting in a terrible accident to Dr. W. A. Hobbs, of Fifth street. The Diamond, as is usually the case on Sunday afternoon, was crowded with men, women and children. All for a moment stood in breathless suspense thinking that the horse and driver had met their fate.

The physician had returned from a professional visit and was going to his stable when the excitement occurred. Not noticing the approach of a street car he did not lessen the horse's speed at this crowded thoroughfare, and was just at the point of directing the horse over the Sixth street track when he observed the coming of a car. Jumping to his feet in the buggy, Dr. Hobbs pulled with all of his power on the lines, stopping the animal instantly, by throwing it to the bricks. In falling the horse broke the buggy shafts and a part of the harness and also by the sudden stop precipitated the physician to terra firma in a violent manner.

That the horse and driver escaped with only slight bruises is considered marvelous.

JUDGE DAY SPOKE AT CANTON.

Remembrance of Some Nature In Different Churches—Mrs. McKinley, Accompanied by Mrs. Hobart, Paid Daily Visit to the Tomb.

Canton, O., Sept. 15.—There was a general observance of McKinley memorial day in the city which claimed him as its own, yesterday. From almost every pulpit there was reference in prayer or in address to him and his work. His favorite hymns were used. There was no attempt at decoration other than to have the portraits of McKinley draped with flags and surrounded with choice flowers. The address that attracted most attention here was that given by Judge William R. Day, former secretary of state and a friend and adviser of McKinley for many years. The address was delivered in the First M. E. church, of which McKinley was a member and in which the public funeral was held Sept. 19, 1901. The only decorations were flowers and a portrait of the late president, around which were the folds of the Stars and Stripes, emblematic of the patriotic spirit of McKinley.

WHERE FELL LATE PRESIDENT.

Memorial Services Held In Buffalo Churches—Public Meeting.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The anniversary of the death of William McKinley was universally observed in this city yesterday. The pastors in all the churches paid tribute to the memory of the martyred president and the congregations sang his favorite hymns. "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "Lead, Kindly Light," were sung by the worshippers in small chapels and missions, and gloriously in tones, accompanied by the great organs in the larger churches, seemingly with special significance and fervor.

In the afternoon a public meeting was held in the city convention hall. The auditorium was crowded and hundreds were turned away. Despite the presence of the immense throng, a reverential quiet prevailed throughout the services. The interior of the hall was decorated with the national colors. A large oil painting of the dead president, festooned in flags, faced the audience. Over the portrait was a banner inscribed with the words uttered by the president in his death bed, "It is God's way." Mayor Erastus C. Knight presided and called the meeting to order with a brief speech.

The services were opened with Chopin's Funeral March by the orchestra. After the invocation the choir of 100 voices and the audience sang "Lead, Kindly Light." President McKinley's favorites, were the principal hymns sung.

THE FINAL GAME FAST AND PRETTY

East Liverpool Made It Three Straight From the Washington (Pa.) Team.

BARKER A STAR TWIRLER

An Excellent Exhibition of Ball Playing Resulted in a Score of 2 to 1. A Pitcher's Battle That Was Interesting.

In a fast and pretty game on Saturday afternoon the locals made it three straight from Washington, Pa., winning by a score of 2 to 1.

Manager Walsh's team went into the game in an apparently crippled condition, only four of the regular players being in uniform. But the bunch soon demonstrated that they were "there with the goods," and were perhaps nearer the real thing than any local team that has played this season.

A nicer exhibition of twirling has not been seen for many days. It was a pitchers' battle, if there ever was one in the West End park. Each man held the hits down to four and not a single two-base hits was landed. Barker only proved again his worth. His delivery beats anything the fans have ever witnessed. But it does the work.

Standing erect and almost motionless the youngster gives his arm a little twist and without the least apparent effort places the ball there every time with his underhand movement.

It is impossible for one to detect what kind of a ball he is going to deliver. His slow ones start in exactly the same manner as the fast ones. The batter generally falls against the ball with his whole weight, but to no effect. If the ball gets out of the diamond it is not Barker's fault.

Carson, the southpaw, who pitched in Thursday's game, was again in the box for the visitors. That he is one of the best cannot be disputed. His delivery is quick and his speed is remarkable. The locals found it difficult to even touch his well-delivered curves. His support was not the best possible, and to that is credited the bases on balls which he gave. He would force the batter into placing one in the infield. The baseman would let it go through. Up in the air he would go, and before alighting would let a man walk.

But one thing marred the enjoyment of the game. Eckels, catcher for the visitors, received a bump in the fifth inning that came near putting him out of the business. He had his head poked too close to the plate when a foul tip went crashing against his mask and on through to his eye. A piece of the mask was broken and jabbed the optical organ quite severely. Over he tumbled on the ground, and it was several minutes before he revived sufficiently to continue the game.

In the second and fifth innings the locals made their runs. Heckathorn led off with a single. Emmerling walked. Webb went down on a fielder's choice and Heckathorn scored on a wild throw. Trainer and Herb Barker fanned. In the fifth an error by third gave Gibson first. He stole second. Reilly struck out. Davis got a hit and Gibson scored. Kid Barker and Heckathorn were easy outs.

Two hits in the sixth gave the visitors their only run. Johnson singled.

A Worthy Institution.

The Ohio Valley Business College of our own city, is being appreciated by the people of this vicinity as is evidenced by the largely increased attendance and the recognition given it by the business men of this city and elsewhere who are daily applying to the school for office help. This school has grown on merit alone. It has recently opened a new term with more than eight times the enrollment of only three years ago. Its graduates are being sought after eagerly and it cannot supply the demand. The training given is so arranged that students may enter at any time.

Lyons went out. Carson singled and Johnson reached home.

Gibson at short did the star playing. He made an error, but accepted eight difficult chances. He also got a hit and a run.

Kid Barker was there as usual. He made several nice long runs and escaped without a sign of an error. To his fast fielding might be credited the few hits made by the visitors.

Every man of the home aggregation exerted himself to the best of his ability and in consequence was in it at all times.

As an umpire Maag gave perfect satisfaction, and his judgment could not have been better.

Eraser distinguished himself by accepting eight chances and only falling down on a couple. It is said that he is the best infielder that the W. & J. team has.

TWO BODIES FOUND IN STREET.

Most of Men's Money Missing—One Had Carbolic Acid, but Not Cause of Death.

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 15.—Shortly after Saturday midnight the bodies of William G. Little, a Baltimore and Ohio conductor, employed in the Cumberland yards, and John Steckman, of Hyndman, Pa., were found lying only a few yards from each other in Front street. Steckman was still breathing.

When the bodies were searched a half-pint flask of whisky was found in one of Little's pockets, while those of Steckman contained a quart bottle of whisky and a half-pint bottle three-fourths filled with carbolic acid.

There were no marks of violence visible.

Physicians who made the post mortem contend that the deaths were not occasioned by acid poison.

Most of the money they had was missing.

A coro doctor who examined the bodies, and who was with at least one of them, was being looked for.

Services Held in Washington.

Washington, Sept. 15.—The anniversary of the death of President McKinley was marked by some tender and sincere mention of him in nearly every church in Washington. Secretaries Wilson and Hitchcock and Secretary Coryell attended the services at the Metropolitan M. E. church, where President McKinley worshipped.

Over the marble tablet placed to the memory of the late president was placed a laurel wreath. His pew was unoccupied. The pastor, Rev. Frank Bristol, preached.

RAISED UP BY GOD.

Minister Said Circumstances So Indicated, as to the President.

ROOSEVELT WAS DISPLEASED.

Didn't Like the Reference Made to Trusts and Laudation of Himself in the Sermon—McKinley's Memory Eulogized—Memorial Services Held.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Rev. Dr. Henry Homer Washburn, rector of Christ Episcopal church, in the presence of President Roosevelt and his family and a congregation that filled the church to overflowing, yesterday preached a sermon in which he devoted considerable attention to "Possibility of danger coming by and through the unguarded use of great wealth concentrated in the hands of a few," and in which he also stated that "if ever circumstances indicated that one was placed Providentially in the executive chair of the nation, then the circumstances that attended the promotion of Mr. Roosevelt so indicated."

Yesterday was the first anniversary of the death of President McKinley and the president had requested Mr. Washburn to hold memorial services. The announcement that this would be done and that President Roosevelt would be present served to draw a large crowd to Christ church, which the president attends while here.

Eulogized Memory of McKinley.

The first part of the rector's sermon was devoted to an eulogy upon the life and character of the martyred McKinley, and to this the president listened attentively. But when in the second part of the sermon Mr. Washburn took occasion to speak of the possibility of danger coming through certain trusts, and also to laud the president, Mr. Roosevelt became restive. His face colored and he plainly showed signs of disapproval of the rector's utterances. At the conclusion of the sermon he turned to Mrs. Roosevelt, who sat beside him, and whispered, "He should not have done that."

After the services the president stated that he had requested Mr. Washburn to hold memorial services, but that he had no knowledge of what the sermon contained nor had he any intimation that the rector would refer to the trusts or to himself. Mr. Washburn also stated that he had prepared the sermon without consulting any members of the president's family.

Some Details of the Services.

Mr. Washburn was assisted by Rev. J. W. Hegeman, of New York, who read a prayer for the departed president. After the prayer and before the Litany the congregation sang, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," kneeling. Another of Mr. McKinley's favorite hymns, "Lead, Kindly Light," also was sung. The services closed with the hymn, "Our Fathers' God, to Thee," sung to the tune of "America." The hangings of the altar and chancel were in purple. Memorial exercises also were held in the other churches here and many of the flags that are flying for the reception today were placed at half-mast.

LITANY OF SAINTS SAID.

Cincinnati Catholic Churches Remember McKinley—Other Services.

Cincinnati, Sept. 15.—McKinley memorial services were held in all the churches of this vicinity yesterday. There were special programs in many churches, including the favorite hymns of the martyred president. In the afternoon a concert was given at Eden park with a program suitable to the anniversary. Appropriate services were also held in all the benevolent and public institutions. In some churches the floral tributes were as elaborate as on Easter. In many places the portrait of McKinley was festooned with crepe and flowers. The posts of the Grand Army of the Republic attended in bodies at different churches. At the cathedral Archbishop Elder had the Litany of the Saints recited after high mass and all the Catholic churches held similar services.

In most of the Protestant churches the pastors spoke at the morning service on the life and character of McKinley and the lesson of his untimely death, but in the afternoon and evening judges, lawyers, professors from the University of Cincinnati and other prominent men addressed the congregations. No day was ever more generally observed in sacred or secular circles here. Suitable memorial exercises will be held in all the city schools today.

Police And Mayor Say "Chongey" Saved Them Trouble—Other Police Matters.

"Chongey" Carragher enjoys the distinction today of being a fugitive from justice without an officer even going to the trouble of asking about his whereabouts. They are all glad he is gone and would likely have escorted him to the city limits this morning whether it had been his wish or not.

Carragher was arrested on Saturday evening by Officers Woods and Bryan for being drunk. He is well acquainted with the doings at the city jail, having been there more times than he is years old, and yesterday when Acting Chief Dawson left the big iron door open while he was escorting another inebriate to a cell, Carragher sprang through the entrance, out through the wide hallway, and like a flash of lightning, with his hair flowing wildly and a look of fiendish delight darting from his eyes he made his way to Second street and from there to some point of safety. Had he known that that was exactly what the officers have been wanting him to do it is very likely that he would have shown a stubborn spirit and stayed a prisoner.

Mayor Davidson, when apprised of the man's escape this morning said, "Bully for Carragher. I am glad he went. It saved me the trouble of sending him."

Thomas McKeever went astray again. In his common condition, very drunk, Tommie was found by Officer Bryan. He had the pleasure of once more contributing to the city's coffers.

John Childs fell into the arms of stalwart Officer Morris in the Diamond while carrying two packages on Saturday night. His assessment was $5.60.

Andy Kohut was making things lively in East End on Saturday when Officer Spence nabbed him. He pleaded guilty to drunkenness and got the customary fine. Tom Hines was given 20 minutes in which to leave town. He was arrested by Officer McDermott.

IN LOCAL CHURCHES*IMPRESSIVE PULPIT DISCOURSES OF YESTERDAY.

Dr. Jones' First Sermon as M. P. Pastor—Addresses of Prof. Davies And Rev. J. W. Gorrell.

At the First Methodist Protestant church yesterday morning Rev. David Jones, D. D., preached his first sermon as regular pastor of that congregation. The music was of a high order.

Dr. Jones most impressively discussed the positive need of a love of Christ as being paramount to man's achievements of scholarship or flights of genius. His sermon was replete with many beautiful periods and the auditors were charmed with its beauty and logic. The impression that each member carried away from the meeting house was quite felicitous to the pastor.

At the Christian church yesterday morning, Rev. J. W. Gorrell delivered a most interesting sermon to a large congregation. He chose for his subject "The Revelation of Things Unheard and Unseen. In part the pastor said:

"Love is the condition of receiving spiritual knowledge and blessings. To love God is to love His character. God is purity. God is merciful. Therefore to receive the spiritual things of God we must be pure in heart; must be merciful and ready to forgive. There is, in fact, no room in the heart of a Christian for hate and envy. Love is manifested by obedience to the commands of God. Obedience is better than sacrifice." No half-hearted Christian has a knowledge of spiritual things. There are no favored persons who can break the laws of health and be healthy. If obedience and love were perfect, then there would be perfect spiritual harmony in our lives.

We have the spiritual revealed to us through and by use of the things of this life. Paul used the world as a telescope to see the things that God had prepared for them that love Him. Jesus came to establish us in the knowledge of eternal things. The gospel of eternal things is hid only to those whose minds are blinded by an evil heart of unbelief."

Rev. Prof. Davies, of Gambier seminary, spoke at St. Stephen's church Sunday, and the congregation had the pleasure of hearing two very able sermons.

In his morning address Prof. Davies took his text from St. Luke 7:13: "The Raising of the Son of the Widow of Nain."

In the evening his discourse was from Judges 5:20. The speaker told of how Jaben was oppressing the people of Canaan, and that their condition was desperate, that they were apparently helpless and without hope, but in the midst of their despair there rose up a woman, Deborah, who had not given up hope, but called upon the Lord for help, and raised the people to action, and she asked Barok to rally them at Mt. Tabor, and he did so, and Jaben hearing of this, sent Sisera, his general, against them, and a battle was fought at Megiddo, and the people put their trust in God and He helped them so that "The stars in their courses fought against Sisera," and he was completely overwhelmed and defeated.

A NEW INDUSTRY HAS BEEN LAUNCHED*COLOR WORKS PLANT READY TO BEGIN OPERATIONS.

A Local Firm Starts a Line of Business New in East Liverpool.

After several months of preparation the new color works are ready to commence operations. A gas engine has been installed in the plant as motive power. The color pans are the first to be built in East Liverpool, and are of the finest grade of stone obtainable. The base and flue kilns are built on the latest improved English pattern.

Samuel Bloor, of this city, has spent years of study in this line, in addition to having worked at the color making business for seven years previous to his arrival in this country. Credit is due him for his efforts in bringing to this country one of the finest color makers in England, F. Q. Mason. These two gentlemen have formed a partnership under the firm name of Mason & Bloor, and will supply to the potting trade all tints of colors which are now imported from England and in addition will manufacture the famous Mason blues, which have held sway in England for the last sixty years. They have never yet been equalled.

A color works in East Liverpool has become a necessity, owing to the large amount of decorating being done here. This will be more convenient for the pottery manufacturers, as every color can be softened with its own flux, instead of using one flux for all colors, which custom is general where there are no color manufacturers, and being very detrimental to the majority of colors.

Already some large orders have been given by some of the leading potters, and very encouraging letters have been received from several potteries outside of East Liverpool requesting samples and promising orders, with assurance of success from what they know of the reliability of the Mason colors. The color works plant is built on the property of Samuel Bloor on Ambrose avenue, opposite the McKinley school.

It will be remembered that at the morning service at the Calcutta United Presbyterian church last Sunday Mr. Campbell tendered his resignation as pastor of the church, stating at the time he proposed to leave the ministry and enter the medical profession. The resignation was acted upon at once and was accepted, as was stated exclusively in this paper at the time.

ELOQUENT EULOGIES OF WM. M'KINLEY FEELINGLY SPOKEN

Dr. Manchester, His Former Pastor, and Other
Ministers Draw Lessons From the Martyr's Life.

McKinley memorial day was appropriately observed in several of the local churches yesterday. Chief interest centered in the sermon by Dr. Manchester.

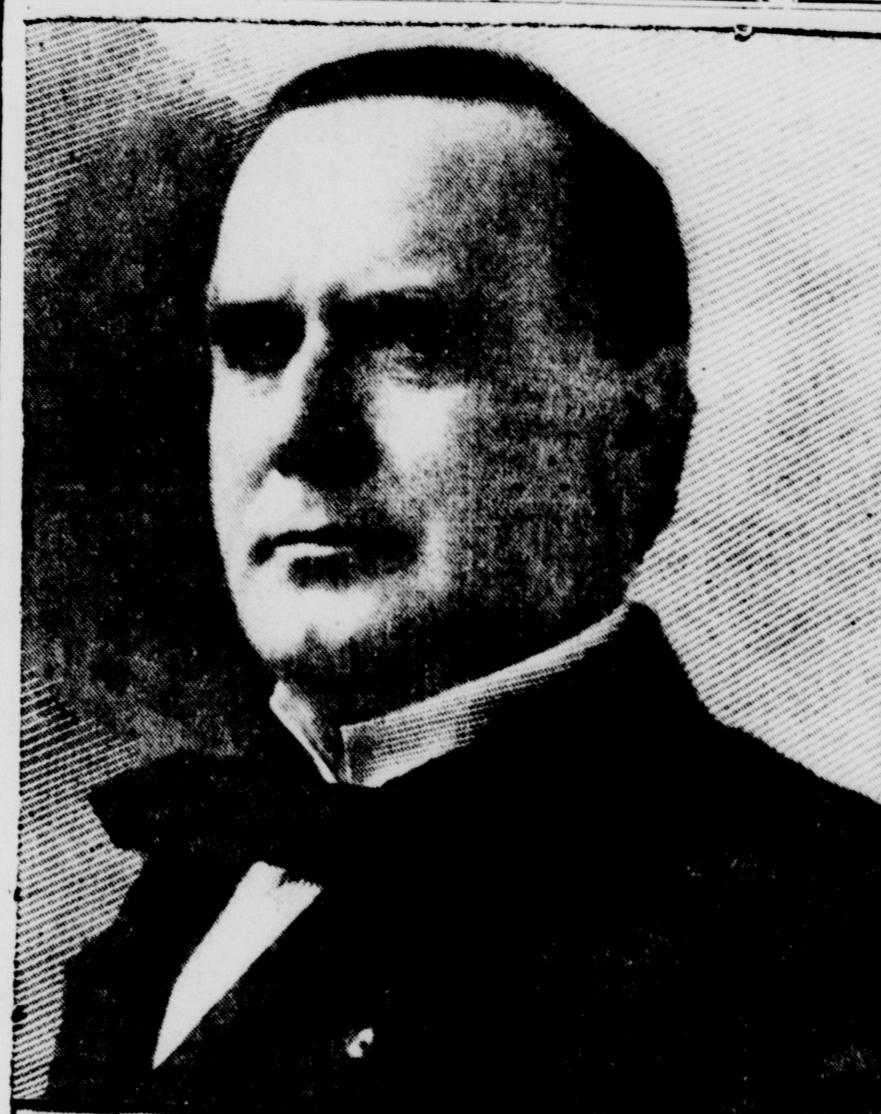

With the deepest reverence one of the largest congregations that ever assembled in the First M. E. church listened to the eulogies of the late martyred and widely loved president, William McKinley, spoken by the Rev. C. E. Manchester, presiding elder of the East Ohio conference, last evening.

Dr. Manchester, having been for years an intimate friend of the man of whom words of praise were uttered in all parts of the United States yesterday, and having been his pastor at Canton and a true friend to the wife and mother, was perhaps more fitted to deliver the address than any other living man.

His remarks were most touching. Many were moved to tears. Reminiscences repeated by the speaker showing the life of McKinley one of grandeur, loveliness and purity in character appealed to all. In part Dr. Manchester said:

"When the body of McKinley was lying in state at Canton magnificent displays, tokens of love and fond respect for the grand man, enshrouded the remains. The display was most beautiful, but amongst the bower a few common flowers, wilted and the stems broken, attracted the gaze of all eyes and left an impression that will never die. A note tied to this little bunch of withered flowers, written by a little girl, showed that McKinley was not only loved by the older

THE NEW UNION OF MOULDMAKERS TWO WEEKS' WORK ARE NOT ENOUGH

Preliminary Steps Have Already Been Taken to Organize It. Despite Predictions, Legislators Have Apparently a Longer Task Ahead.

CHARTER OF N. B. OF O. P. FOUR WEEKS HAVE PAST

Will Be Asked By More Than Half the Former Membership—All Pledged to Work for Abolition of the Contract System.

And the Actual Progress Toward Legislation Has Not Been Great—Hanna And Campaign Party Expected to Visit East Liverpool.

Preliminary steps have been taken for the organization of another local of the mouldmakers, to be chartered under the N. B. of O. P. and composed of workmen engaged at that trade who are in accord with the movement for the abolition of the contract system as it has been practiced in the jurisdiction of the national organization.

The causes which led up to the expulsion of No. 22 from the Brotherhood were many and varied. They emanated from a source that was anything but loyal to the N. B. of O. P. Advantages were taken and privileges used which were unauthorized by No. 22 as an organization. Therefore the results, while they reflected upon the entire membership, were not the sentiment of the members as a whole.

A clever move was made previous to the holding of the trial before the executive board recently, and had the deliberations of that body resulted as a majority of the members of No. 22 thought, all would have been well, but they did not.

Those of the mouldmakers who have the best interests of the Brotherhood at heart have realized for some time that there were men in the organization whose purpose it was to disrupt the union. When the union was tried for an alleged violation of the laws, it was the belief of the loyal ones that the executive board would impose a fine, or at most suspend the local for a certain length of time. Had this been done the society would have been better off than ever before, as the better element concluded that when the reinstatement took place these mischievous would not be among the membership, since they had no real interest in the organization.

Representative Seese, of Summit, said last night that he would introduce his belated school code not later than Tuesday. The only bill passed thus far is the Royer act which has been made a half law by the senate and has been placed on its second reading in the house. It may be passed this week.

The Republican state committee is arranging Senator Hanna's special train itinerary. It has been proposed that he make his first stop at East Liverpool after his appearance at the Akron opening, stopping there while on his way to West Virginia, where he will fill engagements at Wheeling and Parkersburg. The senator promised a definite plan was formed, the result of which will be made known to the executive board in due time.

More than half of the former membership of No. 22 have resolved to ask for a charter, the conditions to be as follows: Every member will pledge

T. J. DUFFY IS UNWILLING TO RUN

Will Endeavor to Keep Democrats From Nominating Him For Congress.

If the name of T. J. Duffy is selected by the Democrats of the Eighteenth congressional district in convention at Alliance tomorrow, to fill a place on the party ticket, it will be against that gentleman's will. Mr. Duffy is satisfied with the situation just as it is, and will not favor any plan for a mixup with the Democracy.

According to the expressed opinion of a large number of East Liverpool Democrats this is going to be easier said than done. The leaders of the party will insist upon placing Mr. Duffy's name before the convention, and as there have been no other candidates mentioned it is quite likely he will receive the honor.

A number of labor leaders have been using every effort within the past few days to induce the Democrats to give up the idea of insisting upon placing any candidate's name upon the Democratic congressional ticket, much less Duffy's, but the attempts have failed. They insist that any intimation of a fusion with the Democrats will hurt the East Liverpool candidates' chances and that if he leaves the labor ticket, there will be no use in making the race.

Duffy and his supporters from the ranks of labor have not forgotten the pledges made at the Alliance convention, when it was resolved to make the fight purely along labor lines. They feel that the Democracy has no right to interfere, and a number of the labor men will go to Alliance tomorrow to prevent if possible any action which may result in the nomination of Duffy by the Democrats.

"I expect to go to Alliance tomorrow," said Mr. Duffy when questioned this morning, "but I will not be in the convention. I understand it is the intention to place my name in nomination, but it will not be done with my sanction. My name ought to go on the labor ticket, and nowhere else.

If the Democrats of the district insist upon nominating me, it will undoubtedly hurt my chances for winning, provided there are any prospects for victory as matters now stand."

The delegates from Liverpool township are as follows: Dr. Geo. P. Ikirt, M. E. Miskall, J. J. Weisner, J. C. Walsh, Ed. Cook, Joseph Reilly, Walter Stewart, John W. Moore, John Plankerton, Thomas Lynch and James H. Tracy.

BOY'S BACK BROKEN IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

As the result of a thrilling runaway accident which occurred on last Friday evening, Benjamin McCoy, aged 14 years, the son of Harry H. McCoy, of Fredricktown, is confined to bed, physically ruined for life.

The unfortunate lad had been to this city and was returning home in a spring wagon drawn by two fractious horses which were driven by Howard Houston when the horses became frightened at the sudden appearance of a white cow along side of the road and before the driver had a chance to check them they plunged madly forward and commenced running at an awful rate of speed. On a terrorizing gallop they sped over the road and finally crashed into a big oak tree. Young McCoy was hurled into the air and struck on a ragged stone, one of the sharp edges striking his back bone, breaking it and throwing him into a state of terrible agony.

Howard escaped serious injury, as did also the horses. In a few minutes the injured one was being conveyed to the office of Dr. Bean, at Calcutta. The physician made a quick examination and found the boy to be in the deplorable condition above described.

The youngster has many friends in the community in which he lives. He is particularly bright and it seems too bad that one with such a bright future should become the victim of such an accident.

more comprehensive people but also by the children.

"The few lines of the note were expressive of the little ones feeling: 'Oh, Mr. McKinley, I send you this because I love you. I am so sorry that you went to Buffalo.'

McKinley's Christian character is worthy of our emulation. It was his faith through which he attained his high position. Men conquer because God is with them. Great are the victories that come to them that believe. His was a character well worth our study. Of the strong men of the world there were none stronger. The luster of his character grows with the declining years. It is true that he is spoken of reverently and fervently by the masses today, but in ten years his memory will be more treasured. The elements of strength lie in a noble manhood. To possess a manhood such as his it is necessary to have a good ancestry. These McKinley had.

DEATH MAY RESULT TO AN AGED FARMER WHO FELL FROM CAR

Not Being Familiar With Electrical Vehicles
He Walked Off and Was Badly
Injured.

While riding on a street car which was going at full speed in Chester this morning at about 6:30 o'clock, John Mellen, an aged farmer living near Hookstown, deliberately stepped off the running board, fell violently to the ground and as a result lies in a critical condition at the home of his son on a shanty boat tied to the river bank near the old flint mill.

The motorman stopped the car immediately and by the aid of several eye witnesses to the accident placed Mellen in the car and removed him to the office of Dr. Lewis, on Virginia avenue. Dr. Hobbs, of this city, was then summoned and the two physicians attended the injured man.

They found that he had sustained a badly cut eye, concussion of the brain on the right of his head and that there were some signs of his being hurt internally. He complained of his right shoulder giving him much pain, but no dislocation or broken bones were discovered. The physicians state that owing to the man's age, he being in his 74th year, there is a possibility of the accident resulting fatally.

Following the examination and the dressing of the wounds Mellen was removed on a car to the Diamond where the patrol wagon was in waiting and from there it took him to the home of his son.

The son states that his father left this city early this morning, intending to go to his farm and states that he, although not a total abstainer, was not under the influence of liquor. As a reason for the elderly man's rash act, it is stated that he has ridden but little on cars and probably was not aware that the alighting when a car in at full speed seldom results otherwise than disastrously.

WELL ON DAWSON FARM GOOD FOR 100 BARRELS

The oil well which was brought in on the Dawson farm by Mike Finnegan, of Pittsburg, is considered the best that has been brought in in this section for many months. This well came in through the sand Saturday morning, and it was drilled in this place on Mill Creek and water will be pumped from the creek to the oil fields for the boilers used in the field. A pipe line has been laid from the creek to the field. The territory gives promise of being one of the most productive in this part of the country.

MINISTERS' PETITION: LEAVE BEAL LAW ALONE

The September meeting of the East Liverpool and Wellsville joint ministerial association was held this morning in the parlors at the Y. M. C. A. hall, and although the attendance was not very large, a sufficient number were present to hold a meeting. In the absence of the regular secretary, Rev. W. M. Glasgow, Rev. L. C. Wells, pastor of the M. P. church at Wellsville, was placed in that position. Local ministers who attended the meeting claim that no business for the press could be given out by the secretary.

It was learned from other sources, however, that some important questions were considered at the meeting. It was stated, and from a source considered most reliable, that it was the wish of the association that at the present session of the legislature the Beal law shall not be changed from its present reading.

It is said that a committee was appointed to prepare a petition containing this request, and that is will be forwarded to the legislature soon.

Members of the association who reside in this city were seen just after the adjournment, but they did not care to talk of the session. One member stated that nothing of importance was done, and that the association had passed a resolution to the effect that the secretary should give out all the news.

SICK FOR TWO YEARS AND NO DOCTOR CALLED

Being ill for almost two years, with no medical attention, Mrs. Mary Smunda, a native of Austria, died at her home at Walker yesterday. No one appears to know the cause of her death, and all that Undertaker Tod could glean from the members of the family was, that she had been ill for two years; was compelled to take her bed last Saturday week, and died Saturday morning. That was all that the members of the family told in broken English, and that is all that will ever be known. The cause of the woman's death will likely remain a mystery.

When Undertaker McQuilken was notified of the death he sent his assistant, Mr. Tod to the house at Walker, and the remains were prepared for burial. As is required in all cases, the causes of death were asked, and when no one appeared to know, the name of the attending physician was asked. None had attended the woman, and these blanks will be left unfilled in the death report of the undertaker which is to be filed at Lisbon.

The age of the woman was placed at 70 years, but even this may not be right. The funeral services were held this morning at St. Aloysius church, and interment was at the Catholic cemetery.

The foreigners residing at Walker are about as illiterate as can be found anywhere. As they cannot speak the American language, it is a wonder that any information can be secured from them on any subject.

Chicken Case Decided.
Squire McLane has rendered a decision in the case of George J. Clark against Charles B. Applegate. The plaintiff is to retain possession of the four chickens, the ownership of which gave rise to the case but both the defendant and plaintiff will be compelled to pay the cost which are to be divided equally.

Henry Butler.
A pretty wedding at which Squire McLane officiated occurred on Saturday evening when Miss Clara Henry and Charles Butler were united in the presence of only a few friends. Both are respected residents of the city and have the good wishes of all.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

AMERICAN POTTERS' PROGRESS. The News Review is in receipt of some valuable information concerning the conditions of the pottery industry of England (Staffordshire districts) which will be read with interest, not only by the older English potters now employed in this city, but by the public in general. These reports, some of which have been sent from English papers, show beyond doubt that the pottery trade of England is declining, and more rapidly than one would suppose, and the business that was once held so firmly in the hands of the British manufacturer is now being secured by the American manufacturer. In short, "the worm is turning."

It is not to be regretted that such conditions exist, from the view of a patriotic American, and especially by those who live in the pottery districts of this country, and in what is now and will be in the future, the center of the pottery district of America, East Liverpool. Not an idle pottery in this part of the Ohio valley. It may be that one or two small shops are idle throughout the country, but these are possibly so small that not much attention is being paid to them. Very different are the conditions in England. In the Staffordshire district it is said that out of a possible total of 304 potteries, 25 are for rent, sale or lease. No such conditions as these prevail in America.

Some manufacturers think there are not potteries enough, and almost every month one will read of additions being built and of new potteries also. There is cause for all this. The American manufacturer has invaded the territory of the English manufacturer conquered the trade once held by his competitor, and is now reaping the harvest. But the end is not yet. Just a few days ago the statement was made to the writer, by a gentleman who is actually more conversant with conditions than any other person in this city, that it was his firm belief that within the next ten or twelve years, there would be no ware imported into the United States and that most of the crockery sold in England would bear the stamp, "Made in America."

Continuing this gentleman said that the trade of the English manufacturer seems almost incredible, but figures and hard facts were presented, all of which showed that the gentleman, who is a resident of this city, knew whereof he spoke.

In a recent issue of the Staffordshire Sentinel it told how slow the English potteries were working, and that workmen in the Staffordshire potteries were working but a few days a week. Pressers reported work as being very scarce in the district, while the sanitary pressers were having more work than they had for months.

In the beginning of the English story the intimation is made that the exports were increasing, but facts prove it otherwise. Information received here this morning from England states that the largest potteries in the Staffordshire district are doing but two and three days a week. The Daultons pottery, which is considered one of the best in that district, is running better than the other large ones.

THE FAIRVIEW CIRCUIT.

O. H. Boughton, who for a year or more has been employed as a boss packer at the Burford pottery, will leave the pottery this week to re-enter the ministry. At the last meeting of the Pittsburg conference of the M. P. church the stationing committee assigned Mr. Boughton to the Fairview circuit, which is in Greene county, Pennsylvania. This is in the heart of the oil district of that county. He will remove his family from this city to Greene county, but how soon it is not stated.

Two Entertaining Stories of American Life Late Published.

"Craque O'Doom," by Mary Hartwell Catherwood, the author of "Lazarine," now in the Carnegie library, is one of the most unique yet interesting books of the year. The scene of the story is laid in a rural American village in the early sixties.

In Tamsin Chenoworth, the heroine of the story, is found a descendant of probably the lowest type of family. For several generations the Chenoworths had figured in dreadful crimes. Tamsin seemed the only redeeming feature, with her proud spirit and lofty ideals. Her abilities were discovered, and her rise, above her surroundings, to a useful and noble life, follows.

Rich in unconscious drollery, touched with tender pathos, and imbued with stirring patriotism, "The Starbuck," is a typical American novel. Whether Low was made to marry Lije; whether Fetterton's love of a "boss trade" exceeded his powers of prayer; how the mountain preacher at last yielded to the love of an admirable woman; how Mrs. Spencer consoled Margaret, and how Judge Elliott reversed all precedent—these and other things are told most charmingly, with keen humor and touching pathos in this latest, and undoubtedly the best of Opie Read's clever stories. "The Starbuck" has been enjoying great popularity.

EAST END*CAINED HIS POINT

Former East Liverpool Reporter Successfully Contends Against Police In Los Angeles.

Archie Searight, of Pennsylvania avenue, has received a number of papers from Los Angeles, California, which contains some interesting reading. Frank Searight, who is a son of Archie Searight, and who for several years was employed in the local newspaper field, is employed on one of the Los Angeles papers. It appears that two reporters from the paper upon which Mr. Searight is working had occasion to seek some information from the police which was of vital importance to the public. This was refused, the police cursing Mr. Searight and another reporter named Wing, and telling them, "the public be hanged."

After this stormy interview charges were preferred against the officers for using profane language, and they were given a hearing before the board of police commissioners. They were found guilty and were given a severe reprimand. Then the desired information was obtained, and now the police are howling to the papers to "let up on them." However, the reporters gained their point, which was to be expected.

ATTACKED HIS EMPLOYER

An East End Baker, Who Was Discharged, Tried to Get Even But Failed.

Because he spoiled several batches of baking, in three days, a baker from Pittsburgh who was employed for three days by J. B. McKinnon, of the East End, attempted to assault his employer Saturday evening, and got the worst of the deal. It appears that after the man was asked to resign his position and was paid $7 for his three days' work, he went out and loaded up on bad whiskey. He returned to the bakery and demanded his return fare to Pittsburgh, but of course this was refused him.

Just then Mr. McKinnon had occasion to stoop down to pick something from the floor, and then it was that the baker tried to throw him down by catching Mr. McKinnon by the neck. He failed in this for McKinnon was too swift for him. The baker has left the East End, but McKinnon did not put up the money for the railroad fare.

NO REFRIGERATOR CARS

East Liverpool Railway Will Not Run Summer Vehicles When the Weather Is Cold.

During the chilly mornings the East Liverpool Railway company will not put out its summer cars. This decision was reached yesterday by Supt. Thomas Reed. For a week or more the weather has been so chilly in the early morning that frequently the blinds of the summer cars were kept down until noon.

Between Wellsville and East Liverpool the ride is so chilly during the early part of the day that the company thought it might be just as well to place the box cars on the road in place of the summer cars. This was done this morning, much to the delight of the traveling public.

NOT AS ADVERTISED

The Much Talked of East End Races Were Most Disappointing.

There was to have been several "good" races at Columbian park Saturday afternoon, but as it was there were several poor attempts at racing. Julius, who styles himself the "terrible Swede," advertised the fact that he would race five horses on a motor cycle, but it appears that the horses were ill and could not run. But Julius did. He ran from the track to the box office several times to count the receipts, and then the crowd also ran to the gate.

There was no motor race or horse race. There was, however, several hundred people fooled, and that was all there was to it. Officer Fisher was present to preserve order, and for a time it looked as though he would have work on his hands. Matters passed off quietly, however, but there was not a horse race or motor race. A Coming Wedding.

Word has been received in the East End of the approaching marriage of Edward Russell, employed as a warehouseman at the Globe pottery, and Mrs. Annie C. Eaton, of Cincinnati. The date of the wedding has not been announced.

LIFE PLANT.

Stillwater, O., Nov. 5th, 1898

Life Plant Co.
Messrs.—After trying the best physicians and the popular remedies of the day for fifteen years for a stubborn case of Eczema, without being benefited, and as physicians claimed there was no cure for me I had concluded to abandon the use of all medicines, believing my case incurable.

Six years ago, hearing through a friend who had tried it, that LIFE PLANT was a wonderful remedy, I was persuaded to make one more trial. $5 worth of LIFE PLANT cured me and I would not take the disease back to keep for thousands of dollars. I was cured six years ago and the disease does not return.

Since being cured myself I have persuaded a number of my friends who had bad cases of Eczema, to try LIFE PLANT, and it cured in every case; and the best of all is, they stay cured. I have given you herein a plain statement of facts and you are at liberty to publish the same for the benefit of those afflicted.

Yours truly,

W. H. HOUK.

The News Review during the fall and winter months last year, published a series of articles forming a "Home Study Course," presenting natural science in popular language. The favor with which these articles were received has led us to decide upon a second course for this year. They will form the most entertaining and valuable reading matter—a veritable mine of useful information. This course will appear only in the columns of the News Review, and we are confident that it will be read with avidity and interest by all classes of readers.

Throughout this broad land, press, pulpit and people yesterday paid homage to the memory of William McKinley. His fame was of the enduring sort, and his greatness as a statesman and a leader is better recognized and more generally appreciated now than when he was living and working for the good of his people. Truly, the memory of a just man is blessed.

Following the example set by the government in prohibiting the sale of liquor to Indians, the navy department has ordered that none be sold in our Samoan possessions. This is a wise decision. Uniform experience with native races the world over is that the introduction of liquor among them soon leads them into intemperance, and in such excess that they are rapidly demoralized.

According to a prominent financial paper of London, English railroads are so over-capitalized that they are on the verge of bankruptcy. It advocates that the principles of American railroad management be applied, if they would avert disaster.

A Democratic congress would mean a revision of the tariff on Democratic lines. The people have not forgotten the effect of the Wilson bill, and will not vote to strike a blow at the industrial interests of the whole country.

Tom L. Johnson's circus itinerary has not been arranged to include East Liverpool. Perhaps the manager has heard how a fake show was treated here a few months ago.

St. Louis has an idea that bribe-givers as well as bribe-takers ought to be punished. Proceeding on that line, the city may be able in time to root out the evil.

The price of whisky has advanced, but it is strongly asserted that it is merely a coincidence and not a result of the opening of the fall political campaigns.

Italy proposes to have an electrical mail route with a speed of four miles a minute. Italian bandits will have to be swift if they catch that mail train.

Tom Johnson, who professes to be a strong advocate of home rule, brings a would-be boss from Nebraska to Ohio to tell the people how to vote.

Prosperity is something the American people do not tire of. That is why Democratic theories are receiving little popular attention now.

As long as manufacturers have nothing to complain of except inability to fill orders fast enough they won't vote for a change of conditions.

While the Democrats elsewhere are talking of reorganizing, the disorganization of Ohio Democracy proceeds apace.

Bryan is still predicting calamity. Time was when some people believed him, but they know him better now.

Cuba appears more eager to get in debt than to get to work.

MRS. MINNIE WARD TELLS A TALE OF INHUMAN CRUELTY.

John R. Hawke Alleges That His Wife Has Deserted Him.

Lisbon, September 15.—(Special)—Two more divorce actions were filed in court today. Mrs. Minnie Ward, of Wellsville, asks for a separation from George Ward, whom she fears will do her bodily harm. She married him in New Cumberland, W. Va., in 1899, and says she was obliged to leave her husband two years later on account of his inhuman conduct. She says he is possessed of vicious habits and has a violent temper. When she separated from him he seized a razor and she believes would have killed her had she not escaped from him. Just before this he struck her with his fist between the shoulders and knocked the breath from her body. Her maiden name was Kinkade and she wants it restored to her.

John R. Hawke, of Wellsville, is the other applicant and wants divorce from Narcissa C. Hawke. He married her in Carroll county in 1882, and she has now been absent from him over three years, during which time she has been in Carroll county. They are the parents of a son and daughter, aged 17 and 19 years.

WELLSVILLE*FOUGHT THE CHIEF

AN EAST LIVERPOOL MAN INTERFERES WITH OFFICER.

Taken Into Custody in Jefferson County. Brought Back And Fined Heavily.

While Chief Thorn was escorting Andy Hoover to the city lockup on Saturday evening, having found him in a drunken condition on Third street, he was interfered with on the public square by George Rutledge, of East Liverpool, who attempted to make the chief release his man.

When Rutledge came within reacching distance of the chief he received a stunning blow from the chief's mace, and by way of retaliation picked up a sharp stone and threw it at the officer. The stone landed on Thorn's chin and cut a deep gash, causing blood to flow freely.

By this time Thorn released his hold on Hoover and started after Rutledge, who started to run. The chief pulled his gun and shot once in the air, but did not at the time catch Rutledge. He returned to Hoover, who was too full to know what was going on and finally landed him in jail.

Chief Thorn went in search of Rutledge and hunted all night for him. Early Sunday morning he learned that Rutledge had gone to the home of his father-in-law, Wesley Wright, who lives in Jefferson county just over the Columbiana county line. As Chief Thorn is a constable and has authority outside of the city, he at once drove to the home of Wright to place Rutledge in custody.

When he arrived at the house Wright came to the door and told the officer that Rutledge was not there.

Rutledge, however, at once put in an appearance and wanted to give himself up to the officer.

Wright, however, would not have it that way and said that he would blow the officer's brains out before he would let him take anyone from his household.

It did not take the chief long, however, to get Rutledge and he finally landed him in the city jail.

Sunday afternoon the chief, accompanied by Detective Moore, of the C. & P. road, drove to Irondale, where he secured a warrant for Wright's arrest, charging him with obstructing an officer in the discharge of his duty and served the warrant himself. He took Wright back to Irondale, where he was placed in jail.

Rutledge was brought before Mayor Fogo Sunday morning and was fined $50 and costs, a sum which he is unable to pay and unless the amount is forthcoming from some of his relatives of friends within the next day or two Rutledge will probably be sent to the Canton workhouse. Hoover was fined $1.60 and arranged for payment.

MAYOR KEPT BUSY

Six Prisoners Appeared Before Mayor Fogo for Hearings This Morning.

For about 39 minutes Mayor Fogo did a land office business this morning and gave six prisoners a hearing, all of whom were arrested last evening. Two of Contractor Rinehart's colored laborers, William Howard and Thomas Powell, who were arrested by Officers Thorn and Houser, appeared before the mayor on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly. They at first pleaded not guilty, but finding that it would cost them less to plead guilty they changed their plea and were each fined $4.75.

Three Italian youngsters giving their names as Dominick Martin, Dennis Saul and Lewis D. Orr, who were arrested last evening by Officers Thorn and Houser, were given a hearing. Two were charged with being drunk and disorderly and the third was charged with carrying concealed weapons. All pleaded not guilty and their trial was set for later in the day, at which time witnesses will be called in.

John H. Powers, who is also employed by Contractor Rinehart, was given hearing this morning. He was taken into custody by Officer Houser at Third street and Broadway last evening charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was assessed $4.75, but could neither pay the fine nor furnish security. Unless some of his friends come to his rescue he will probably be sent to the Canton workhouse.

A GARBAGE PIT

Improvement Committee Has Been Investigating Available Sites for One.

The improvement committee of council, which is composed of Councilmen Brennen, McCormick and Henderson, accompanied by Mayor Fogo, of the board of health, made a trip to the extreme west end of the city on Sunday afternoon for the purpose of looking up a site for a big garbage pit, a matter which has been the topic of general conversation for the last few days.

After looking over several pieces of property, two small strips of land were finally picked out, and if either can be purchased by the city that property will be turned into a garbage pit.

One of the strips of land is located just back of the old Champion Fire, Brick & Clay company's plant and the other strip is nearby.

It is the intention of the committee to dig a large pit and have all of the garbage that is put into the pit, covered with lime. Bids will be called in and a contract let for the taking charge of the gathering of garbage throughout the city. Several have already applied to members of the committee for the job, and it is expected that at least three bids will be received.

COUNCIL MEETING

Important Matters For the Consideration of the City Fathers Tonight.

Council will convene in regular session this evening at which time important new business will be brought up. It is expected that some action will be taken relative to placing fire plugs along Steubenville street in response to the petition, which has been circulated among the citizens along that thoroughfare.

An action is also looked for relative to a garbage pit, a matter which is in the hands of the improvement committee.

The light committee will also make a report to the council stating what they have done relative to placing new gas lights at different street intersections in the city.

Wrs. Kollna Wins Her Suit.

A decision in the case of Mrs. Mary Kollna against her husband, Stephen Kollna, was given at 1 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, by Squire Haney. The suit was to recover $250 which Mrs. Kollna claimed her husband owed her and the case was given a hearing before Squire Haney. His decision was in favor of the plaintiff.

KNEW M'KINLEY BEST

Old Neighbors Pay Tribute on the Anniversary of His Death.

JUDGE DAY SPOKE AT CANTON.

Remembrance of Some Nature In Different Churches—Mrs. McKinley, Accompanied by Mrs. Hobart, Paid Daily Visit to the Tomb.

Canton, O., Sept. 15.—There was a general observance of McKinley's memorial day in the city which claimed him as its own, yesterday. From almost every pulpit there was reference in prayer or in address to him and his work. His favorite hymns were used. There was no attempt at decoration other than to have the portraits of McKinley draped with flags and surrounded with choice flowers. The address that attracted most attention here was that given by Judge William R. Day, former secretary of state and a friend and adviser of McKinley for many years. The address was delivered in the First M. E. church, of which McKinley was a member and in which the public funeral was held Sept. 19, 1901. The only decorations were flowers and a portrait of the late president, around which were the folds of the Stars and Stripes, emblematic of the patriotic spirit of McKinley.

In the Catholic churches of the city special mass was said. Tribute was also paid by some of the priests to the memory of McKinley, because, having known him personally, they could not forbear.

Mrs. McKinley Visited Tomb.
Although deeply conscious of the fact that it was just one year ago that her beloved husband died, Mrs. McKinley did not vary the program followed by her for several months. All days to her have been memorial days. Her usual trip to West Lawn cemetery was taken in the forenoon and she laid love's offering of flowers on the casket that contains the remains of the nation's martyred chief.

Mrs. Garrett A. Hobart, who is her guest, went with her into the McKinley tomb and also laid a bouquet of flowers on the coffin. Their subsequent drive took them to the McKinley family burial lot, where the daily bouquets were laid by Mrs. McKinley's direction. The afternoon and evening were spent at the McKinley home. During the day there were many visitors at the McKinley vault.

Judge Day's tribute to his martyred chief was in part as follows:

Call for Suppression of Anarchists.

"This tragedy which fills our hearts with grief has a lesson for the living, and calls upon law makers and law enforcers for all that legislation and courts can do, suppression and punishment of those who teach or practice the dreadful tenets of this code of lawlessness and ruin."

Referring to the early life of McKinley, he said:

"From the school he heard the call of his country to her sons, and at once stepped into the ranks as the defender of the Union. His associates in arms, officers of his regiment, included such lawyers as Hay and Matthews, and in their companionship, while a valiant soldier, he determined to adopt the legal profession as his calling, should he survive the perils of war."

Referring to the Spanish-American war, Judge Day said:

"He determined to do all within the range of his official duties to better the condition of the Cuban people, to relieve the strain upon our country, and if possible to accomplish these ends without an appeal to arms. These purposes are the key to his Cuban policy, steadily pursued, with much accomplished, when the unlooked for happened in the treacherous anchoring of the Maine where she became the easy prey of malicious persons bent upon her destruction."

Spain Told Withdrawal Necessary.

The president realized that he could no longer hope for a peaceful settlement which did not include the withdrawal of Spain from the American continent, and he promptly advised our minister at Madrid that only such a settlement would be satisfactory.

He determined to do all within the range of his official duties to better the condition of the Cuban people, to relieve the strain upon our country, and if possible to accomplish these ends without an appeal to arms. These purposes are the key to his Cuban policy, steadily pursued, with much accomplished, when the unlooked for happened in the treacherous anchoring of the Maine where she became the easy prey of malicious persons bent upon her destruction."

A STARTLING REPORT

One That Speaks Volumes—Tells of a Great Good Done—of a Certain Cure—For the Nervous, Weak And Helpless.

Mr. James Peppin, of No. 393 Third Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkin's Drug Store are a fine nerve tonic. As result of hard work I was generally debilitated—nervous and could not sleep. I needed rebuilding and found in the Nerve Pills the medicine needed. They have the power to strengthen the nerves—give restful sleep and general vigor to the system at large."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

NOBODY HUNTS FOR CARRAHER

HE WALKED OUT OF JAIL AND OFFICERS WERE GLAD.

Police And Mayor Say "Chongeyc" Saved Them Trouble—Other Police Matters.

"Chongeyc" Carragher enjoys the distinction today of being a fugitive from justice without an officer even going to the trouble of asking about his whereabouts. They are all glad he is gone and would likely have escorted him to the city limits this morning whether it had been his wish or not.

Carragher was arrested on Saturday evening by Officers Woods and Bryan for being drunk. He is well acquainted with the doings at the city jail, having been there more times than he is years old, and yesterday when Acting Chief Dawson left the big iron door open while he was escorting another inebriate to a cell, Carragher sprang through the entrance, out through the wide hallway, and like a flash of lightning, with his hair flowing wildly and a look of fiendish delight darting from his eyes he made his way to Second street and from there to some point of safety. Had he known that that was exactly what the officers have been wanting him to do it is very likely that he would have shown a stubborn spirit and stayed a prisoner.

Major Davidson, when apprised of the man's escape this morning said, "Bully for Carragher. I am glad he went. It saved me the trouble of sending him."

Thomas McKeever went astray again. In his common condition, very drunk, Tommie was found by Officer Bryan. He had the pleasure of once more contributing to the city's coffers.

John Childs fell into the arms of stalwart Officer Morris in the Diamond while carrying two packages on Saturday night. His assessment was $5.60.

Andy Kohut was making things lively in East End on Saturday when Officer Spence nabbed him. He pleaded guilty to drunkenness and got the customary fine. Tom Hines was given 20 minutes in which to leave town. He was arrested by Officer McDermott.

IMPRESSIVE PULPIT DISCOURSES OF YESTERDAY.

Dr. Jones' First Sermon as M. P. Pastor—Addresses of Prof. Davies And Rev. J. W. Gorrell.

At the First Methodist Protestant church yesterday morning Rev. David Jones, D. D., preached his first sermon as regular pastor of that congregation. The music was of a high order.

Dr. Jones most impressively discussed the positive need of a love of Christ as being paramount to man's achievements of scholarship or flights of genius. His sermon was replete with many beautiful periods and the auditors were charmed with its beauty and logic. The impression that each member carried away from the meeting house was quite felicitous to the pastor.

At the Christian church yesterday morning, Rev. J. W. Gorrell delivered a most interesting sermon to a large congregation. He chose for his subject "The Revelation of Things Unheard and Unseen. In part the pastor said:

"Love is the condition of receiving spiritual knowledge and blessings. To love God is to love His character. God is purity. God is merciful. Therefore to receive the spiritual things of God we must be pure in heart; must be merciful and ready to forgive. There is, in fact, no room in the heart of a Christian for hate and envy. Love is manifested by obedience to the commands of God. 'Obedience is better than sacrifice.' No half-hearted Christian has a knowledge of spiritual things. There are no favored persons who can break the laws of health and be healthy. If obedience and love were perfect, then there would be perfect spiritual harmony in our lives. We have the spiritual revealed to us through and by use of the things of this life. Paul used the world as a telescope to see the things that God had prepared for them that love Him. Jesus came to establish us in the knowledge of eternal things. The gospel of eternal things is hid only to those whose minds are blinded by an evil heart of unbelief."

Rev. Prof. Davies, of Gambier seminary, spoke at St. Stephen's church Sunday, and the congregation had the pleasure of hearing two very able sermons.

In his morning address Prof. Davies took his text from St. Luke 7:13, "The Raising of the Son of the Widow of Nain."

In the evening his discourse was from Judges 5:20. The speaker told of how Jaben was oppressing the people of Canaan, and that their condition was desperate, that they were apparently helpless and without hope, but in the midst of their despair there rose up a woman, Deborah, who had not given up hope, but called upon the Lord for help, and raised the people to action, and she asked Barok to rally them at Mt. Tabor, and he did so, and Jaben hearing of this, sent Sisera, his general, against them, and a battle was fought at Megiddo, and the people put their trust in God and He helped them so that "The stars in their courses fought against Sisera," and he was completely overwhelmed and defeated.

PRESBYTERY MEETING

Steubenville U. P. Organization to Act on Rev. W. B. Campbell's Resignation.

A meeting of the Steubenville U. P. presbytery was held this afternoon at the First U. P. church for the purpose of taking action upon the resignation of Rev. William B. Campbell from the presbytery.

It will be remembered that at the morning service at the Calcutta United Presbyterian church last Sunday Mr. Campbell tendered his resignation as pastor of the church, stating at the time he proposed to leave the ministry and enter the medical profession. The resignation was acted upon at once and was accepted, as was stated exclusively in this paper at the time.

The resignation will likely be accepted by the presbytery also. Most of those who live at a distance arrived in the city at noon today, and the meeting will continue throughout the afternoon.
